Ike Welcomes Khrushchev On Arrival For U.S. Visit

Red Boss Gets Luke-Warm Reception From Crowds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived today on his historic 13-day American visit and drove through crowd-packed streets which politely applauded but raised scarcely a cheer of welcome.

President Eisenhower met the Russian leader at the foot of his plane ramp at Andrews Air Force Base and there he got the full-dress ceremonial welcome accorded a head of state.

But if the world's No. 1 Communist had expected an ovation from the American public, he was disappointed.

Eisenhower welcomed him with the hope that his visit, and the President's return trip to Russia later, would contribute to a better understanding of their respective peoples and systems.

But the President added a tart commentary on their differences.

"In our system the people themselves establish and control the government," he said. "You will find that they, like your people, want to live in peace with justice."

Khrushchev replied that he had come to America with "an open heart and good intentions."

"The Soviet people want to live in friendship with the American people," he said. "There are no obstacles to having the relations between our countries develop as relations between good neighbors."

Khrushchev made proud mention of the Soviet feat of launching a rocket to the moon.

"A pennant bearing the national emblem of the Soviet Union is now on the moon," he said.

"The Soviet pennant as an old resident on the moon will welcome your pennant and they will live there together in peace and friendship . . ."

The Soviet leader's mammoth TU114 turbo-prop aircraft arrived almost an hour behind schedule. Confusion was compounded when the great craft had to be turned around. Khrushchev had to emerge on the other side of the plane from the color guard and reviewing stand.

Eisenhower went around the plane and greeted the premier, his wife, Mrs. Nina Khrushchev, and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Khrushchev was beaming at the outset, waving his hat and gesturing animatedly to Eisenhower. Eisenhower was cordial and polite but the famous like grin was not much in evidence during the ceremony.

Khrushchev received a 21-round cannon salute. He reviewed an honor guard of the

PERSONNEL MATTER

Supervisors Hold Private Session

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today met in an executive session — a closed and non-public meeting — to discuss a personnel matter that County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said the board had a right to discuss in secret.

The name of the person was not disclosed, and Jordan told the board that an opinion handed down by State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk implies that the name could remain confidential unless the employee wanted it made public.

In addition, Jordan said there is some question whether the press or the public is entitled to know that the board plans to hold an executive session.

(This statement by Jordan apparently implies that the board of supervisors can decide itself whether any executive meeting it plans is legal.) Jordan told the board it could hold the session today (started just at noon) according to the provision of the Brown Act.

The board was to consider a letter written by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen and apparently involving several word-of-mouth allegations made against a county employee. Jensen said the employee's attorney had demanded a hearing.

Jordan said the matter concerned complaints and that under Brown Act the board was exempted from discussing the matter in public.

Jensen said it was his understanding the employee wanted it to be "private."

2 Men Arrested In San Rafael Marijuana Case

The San Rafael Police Department today cracked down on its biggest marijuana case thus far with the confiscation of a dozen packages of the narcotic worth perhaps $300 retail.

Two men suspected of possessing marijuana were jailed at 3 a.m. today. They are Vincent Gerald (Buzz) Phillips, 22, of 2015 Fifth avenue and Ronald John Hollingworth, 20, of 131A Reservoir road. Phillips works for an auto parts firm. Hollingworth is employed by a heating company.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa commended Inspector Nick Giampoli of his department and Inspector Richard Argento of the sheriff's office for a "fine job of police work." Giampoli had been watching the case for several months, ever since Hollingworth was arrested at the San Francisco

FAIR TURNOUT IN MILL VALLEY BOND ELECTION

Good weather and widespread interest in Mill Valley School District matters brought "fair" voting this morning on the proposed $600,000 school bond issue, a spot check at noon indicated.

Strawberry Point School Precinct reported 153 votes cast. Tamalpais Valley School recorded only 49. Other polling places reported tallies of 161, 123 and 80.

Polls will remain open until 7 o'clock.

Upset Supervisors With Proposal They Yield Their Room

A committee of three representing the Marin County Bar Assn. took strong exception today with the county board of supervisors' plan to put Marin's new municipal court into the San Rafael City Council room. The lawyers asked that the supervisors surrender their own stronghold two days of each week.

Sparks flew and thunder rolled over this proposition.

But a further idea of displacing the press from its spacious room in the courthouse, in exchange for a choice of one or two conference rooms in the annex, didn't upset the supervisors one bit.

THREE APPEAR

John G. Buresh made the main presentation on behalf of the lawyers, supported by Thomas C. Nelson (who maintained what might be termed a "watching brief") — and Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich (who sought to disassociate himself from his official position "unless this goes before the grand jury.")

At one stage Supervisor William A. Gnos declared, "I'm about to take my coat off." His stern demeanor prompted Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who had earlier said "we're sitting ducks and we might as well acknowledge it," to explain that "Bill is a great joker."

But when Weissich said that after all, any taxpayer's suit against the supervisors for renting a courtroom when one was available would be just to "recover funds and a 20 per cent penalty," it was Fusselman who shot back "Are you threatening us?"

JUDGE'S POWER

"Not at all, and now I've forgotten what I was going to say," said Weissich. He soon remembered that he'd meant to explain the judges' power — if frustrated by lack of action by the supervisors — to order the sheriff to build another annex to the courthouse.

Lawyers were described as "very much alarmed" at reports the supervisors had decided to rent space in the Herzog Building for the judge's chambers and to establish the court in the city hall. A unanimous

DUGOUT PROVES SNUG CAMPING SPOT FOR BOY

A 13-year-old Santa Venetia boy was taken into custody by the law yesterday inside the Santa Venetia Little League dugout where he had been camping out since Sunday.

When Sheriff's Deputy Arthur Wiggins went to the dugout yesterday afternoon, he found John W. Martinez enjoying a meal of pork and beans from a can.

The youngster told police his real home is 27 Roosevelt avenue, but since his parents left for the Russian River area, he decided to go camping himself.

The boy said he slept in the dugout Sunday night wrapped in two blankets. Officers took him to better quarters at Marin Juvenile Hall.

Terra Lindans Voting Today On Bond Issue

It was just like Christmas last night in Terra Linda.

But whether Santa will bring what is wanted—either approval or defeat of the $350,000 recreational bond issue, being voted on today—is anyone's guess.

By 12:30 p.m., 534 votes already had been cast, of 1,487 eligible voters. The polling place, at the Terra Linda Firehouse, will remain open until 7 p.m.

Except for three carloads of teen-agers "jazzing it up" in favor of the bond vote, last night was also as quiet as the proverbial Christmas mouse.

This was the picture on the eve of the election, according to both proponents and opponents of the bond issue.

Henry H. Pierce, a member of the Terra Linda Home Owners Assn., a group which opposes the bond issue, said his neighborhood was quiet.

"But the opposition had a lot of signs on the fences," he said. "And they were floodlighted just like Christmas. We really don't know if the bonds will pass or not. A lot of people are afraid to express an opinion for fear of expulsion from the neighborhood circle. After this is all over—win, lose or draw—we're going to have to cool off."

He said proponents of the bonds organized three carloads

SCHOOL RULE ISSUE

West Marin Question: Spank Or Not Spank?

To spank or not to spank—that may be the question in West Marin.

The West Marin School District board last night instructed Supt. George Stratton to prepare a set of rules governing corporal punishment.

A law passed at this year's session of the legislature permits a board to establish such regulations. The West Marin members will consider Stratton's proposals at their next meeting, scheduled Oct. 13 instead of Oct. 12, which is Columbus Day.

The board also discussed other state legislation which requires that a county come up with a master plan for school district reorganization or else the state will do so. A unification study of the Marin coast area is now under way by the Marin County committee on school district organization. Stratton told the board the new tax rate for general purposes will be $1.48, 12 cents lower than the amount approved by the voters last year at the tax election. The new assessed valuation of the district is more than four million dollars, he reported.

The board also discussed the proposed $60,000 addition to West Marin School. Plans for the structure, which includes a multi-purpose room and one classroom, are still under study by the State Division of Architecture.

Blast Kills Man Who Set Off Explosion

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A home-made bomb deliberately thrown onto a paved playground blasted the Edgar A. Poe Elementary School today. At least four children and two adults perished.

Rescuers sped at least 27 children and the school principal to hospitals.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents rushed to the fashionable southwest Houston residential area after school officials said a man deliberately threw a leather container onto the playground.

The all-white school has had no integration troubles.

The body of a man, tentatively identified as Paul Harold Orgeron, of suburban South Houston, was found on the playground. He was not on the school staff, and as far as is known had no business at the school.

Police Inspector William Burton said the man "had the bomb in a suitcase and walked up to the playground."

"The school custodian and a teacher tried to get him off the ground."

"He had a string tied from a pistol to the bomb."

Sheriff Buster Kern said six detonators suitable for explosives and a pushbutton switch were found in a station wagon parked across from the school. He said investigators also found a plastic bag believed to have contained explosives.

Kern said the station wagon was registered under the name of P. H. Oregerson of Altus, Okla. The license was issued in Dallas.

Mothers rushed to the school, screaming.

Mrs. D. L. Hunt, a teacher, said a boy came running to her during recess and said there was a man in the schoolyard with a suitcase "with a button on it."

The student quoted the man as saying he was going to punch the button.

Mrs. Hunt said she and another teacher started to lead the children out but the explosion occurred before they could get out of the building.

Early Period Classes Attract Few Students

Insufficient enrollment may force abandonment of more than half the 15 early-period classes offered at Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools under a pilot program for college preparatory students.

This was reported to trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District last night by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

Enrolees in the experimental program have a seven-period day instead of six. The extra period starts at 7:30 a.m. and the regular school day at 8:30.

Robert D. Torrey, director of instruction, said last summer that an enrollment of at least 15 students in an early-period class would warrant its being held.

Carlisle reported last night that four of the five early-period classes offered at both Redwood and Tamalpais High Schools are on shaky ground, and one already has been dropped at Drake. The four surviving classes at Drake have reasonably good enrollments, he said.

At Redwood, Carlisle reported, 18 students have signed up for U.S. history, 11 for advanced algebra, five for biology, four for problems of American democracy and none for Latin.

So far at Tam, there are 22 signups for chemistry, but only nine for advanced algebra, eight for English, six for biology and five for U.S. history, Carlisle said.

He told the board that Drake has already dropped an early-period class which was to offer either Latin or Spanish, depending on signups. A few students wanted Latin and a few Spanish, he said, but not enough to warrant giving either subject at 7:30 a.m.

Carlisle said 23 students have signed up at Drake for physiology, 22 for advanced algebra, 14 for geometry and 13 for English.

Carlisle said the fate of classes with low enrollments will be decided in the next week to 10 days. Registrations still are being accepted for the early period.

Questioned by the Independent-Journal recently, Mrs. E. W. Denicke of Ross, member of the district curriculum council committee on the extended-day plan, predicted the pilot program "might hang itself."

She termed it "a start," but said it is "really helping only the gifted children. I don't feel it offers a real test."

Mrs. Denicke said the pilot program "was not recommended by the curriculum committee. . . . We have not had enough meetings to draw sufficient conclusions."

The experiment also received advance criticism from some Parent-Teacher Assn. members

College Board Follows Accreditation Proposals

The College of Marin board of trustees last night followed at least two recommendations of a Western College Assn. accreditation team by setting up a "committee on committees."

It is to establish committees, decide on their membership, and decide what specific areas they are to study, mainly points raised in the accreditation report. The "committee on committees" is also to decide what channel a committee's recommendation is to take to the board of trustees. Two recommendations in the College of Marin accreditation report were partially met by last night's board action.

One was that better faculty-administration liaison be established. (The "committee on committees" is made up of four faculty members, four members of the administration, and one trustee.) A second was that the faculty curriculum committee be replaced by an official college curriculum committee which includes an administration representative. (A curriculum committee is one which the "committee on committees" will establish.)

Members of the "committee on committees" are: Edwin Braun, chemistry instructor; Dr. Cornelius Weber, English instructor; Stephen Bruff, geology instructor; Dr. George Ball, French instructor and chairman of the foreign language department; Ward H. Austin, president of the college; Paul Clymer, vice president; Irwin P. Diamond, dean of men; Dr. Marjorie Palmquist, dean of women, and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, member of the board of trustees.

The Western College Assn. accreditation team visited College of Marin last November. This spring the team delivered a report and gave College of Marin accreditation for three years. Previously, the junior college had been accredited for five-year periods.

Accreditation enables other institutions to grant credit for scholastic work done at College of Marin. However, University of California, Stanford University and the state colleges have accredited College of Marin under their own standards.

In other business last night, the board of trustees:

1. Voted to pay Dr. John Kelly, music professor at San Francisco Theological Seminary, at a rate of $11.40 an hour to serve as the junior college choir director. He is scheduled to teach two hours a week.
2. Voted to hire a student night watchman at $2 an hour to work from 7:30 p.m. Saturday to 6 a.m. Sunday each week.
3. Postponed until a Sept. 23 meeting a decision on part-time office help for Dean Palmquist.

Another meeting to discuss the college's adult education program was set for Oct. 1. Trustees George G. Washburn was absent.

Athletes Free Of Gym Class

Exemption of qualifying junior and senior athletes from physical education courses at Tamalpais, Redwood and Sir Francis Drake high schools was approved last night by trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District.

A new section of the state education code authorizes a district's governing board to exempt some athletes from classes in physical education, reported Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

He said the provision is designed especially for college preparatory students who may give up study hours to participate in athletics. Exemption is only during the athletic season and the student may substitute only study hall for physical education. A grade for physical education during the exemption period would be given by the coach, Carlisle said.

In other matters the district board:

1. Held a public hearing on execution of a quitclaim deed to the town of Corte Madera covering fee title to a drainage easement in the vicinity of the Lucky drive crossing of Corte Madera High Canal, adjacent to Redwood High. No protest was heard, but adoption of a resolution was tabled pending a meeting Friday night with representatives of the town and the Lucky Drive Assessment District.
2. Learned that district enrollment as of yesterday was 3,666, an increase of 250 over last year at this time. A breakdown showed 1,218 students at Tamalpais High School, 1,203 at Redwood and 1,245 at Drake.
3. Granted Lillian Roth, German teacher at Tam High, a six-month leave of absence for illness and hired Gerda Kreitkopf as her replacement.
4. Awarded L. Ritznik of San Francisco a contract for furnishing Redwood High School band uniforms.

Hub School Board Accepts Salary Report

A salary study report—favoring competitive schedules and merit pay—was approved by the San Anselmo School District Board last night.

The board accepted all the recommendations made by a salary administration study committee after 16 months of work.

The committee came up with these recommendations for the San Anselmo, Fairfax and Kentfield districts:

NEW SCHEDULE

1. A salary schedule which "competes favorably with schedules in similar communities should be adopted as far as possible. It was noted that the San Anselmo board recently adopted a new schedule which was approved by the teachers and considered to meet that portion of the recommendations.

2. Boards should consider a provision in the budget of funds for merit compensation over and above the regular schedules.

3. The district should request its teachers to set up study committees to determine whether the teachers wish to accept the principle of merit pay for exceptional service and how they propose to distribute the merit funds.

FUNDS AVAILABLE

4. The district should make funds available for needed study materials and consultant services. The board agreed to allow a maximum of $100 for this purpose.

Trustees Mary Hedin and Robert Corlett were appointed to meet with the teachers' study committee when it is formed.

The salary administration study committee was composed of two trustees from each of the three districts, a principal from each district, a teacher and a teacher's association representative, and the superintendent and two assistant superintendents. A consultant from the University of California, Dr. Robert Howsam, worked with the group.

Thieves Loot Tent Of Mt. Tam Campers

A vacationing couple from Seattle, camped in a tent at Boot Jack Camp on Mt. Tamalpais, returned to their site last night to find their sleeping bags and belongings gone.

At 3:45 this morning Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDonald Embury called the sheriff to report the loss.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cautious selling sent stocks down more than three billion dollars at one time today but a late rally recovered more than one-third the loss.

Trading was heavier than yesterday on both the downside and upside. The rally sharply reduced losses in many key issues and enabled others to break into higher ground after early weakness.

Volume for the day was estimated at three million shares compared with 2,590,000 yesterday.

In a fairly severe decline, key stocks dropped from fractions to two points or more.

Depressed by the tight money situation and uncertainty over the impact of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit, the market was lower from the start with motors very active.

NEW STATE LAW

College Trustees Ask: Is 'Hell Week' Hazing?

A new state law making expulsion automatic for any student involved in club hazing was brought up before the College of Marin board of trustees last night, but both the dean of men and dean of women protested that the junior college "Hell Week" activities didn't fit the category of hazing.

Hazing, as defined by law, is "causing bodily harm or tending to degrade or disgrace," said President Ward H. Austin.

The five women's clubs have already set a "Hell Week" for pledges. It will be the week of Oct. 26, preceding a homecoming football game with Napa Junior College scheduled for Oct. 30.

"What does Hell Week mean on this campus?" asked Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, a member of the board of trustees.

"It isn't anything terrible like you would expect," replied Dr. Marjorie Palmquist, dean of women. "The pledges will be given lots of homecoming chores."

The three men's clubs, which have not set a "Hell Week" as yet, ordinarily have a tug of war across Corte Madera Creek, a touch football game, and often take on a campus

County To Lease Ag Service Space

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today voted to lease office space at the Hopfield Building at 738 A Street, San Rafael, for the University of California Agricultural Extension Service office, but the approval came after a flareup between Supervisor William D. Fusselman and Vera Schultz.

Winston Engvall, county farm adviser, had recommended an office containing about 1,400 square feet at 933 D Street, as against the one with but 800 square feet on A Street.

Fusselman alluded to statements made recently that he said indicated the office did not need any more space than it now has (800 square feet) in the basement of the San Rafael Post Office. The farm advisory office must move because of post office remodeling.

Mrs. Schultz moved that Engvall's recommendation be followed. Her motion was seconded by Supervisor James Marshall.

As the vote was taken, Fusselman said he was voting against it because the space "is an inexcusable additional expense. The office operated adequately in 800 square feet for years." He added that the A Street location is available at $160 a month, including utilities, whereas the D Street location, would cost $160.50 plus utilities and would probably increase to $200 in three years.

Mrs. Schultz said that just because the office is now crowded is no reason to keep it that way.

"Mrs. Schultz, we are now voting," Fusselman retorted. "You have no right to criticize my vote. You've been doing this for years."

Fusselman and Supervisor George Gnossvoted "no." "I think the office should be in Novato," Gnossvoted.

Chairman Walter R. Castro then moved for transfer of funds, but was reminded that because of the 3-2 vote no funds could be transferred. A four-fifths vote is required where funds are involved.

Mrs. Schultz then asked for approval of the A Street location, and only Gnossvoted against it. Then a vote for a transfer of funds was unanimous.

San Jose Board Willing To Meet

San Jose School District trustees last night agreed to discuss the possibility of a joint meeting with the Novato Unified School District board, but declared that such a meeting could not change their official stand against merger of the two districts.

Alan M. Swabacker, board chairman, said he would talk to members of the Novato board who have suggested such a meeting to make clear the reasons for the opposition.

An election to settle the merger issue will be held in both districts Sept. 29.

Fluoridation Vote Drive Kicked Off

With another reference to the survey that said 86 per cent of Marin's children have tooth decay, petition circulators for a vote on whether Marin is to have fluoridated water launched their campaign last night.

Meeting at the Marin County Health Department were approximately 50 persons, including area chairmen and petitioners.

Dr. William Loran, Mill Valley dentist and clinical instructor in operative dentistry at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, discussed the findings of the dental survey and fluoridation.

Leland H. Jordan, Marin County counsel, spoke on legal aspects of petition gathering.

Dr. Loran spoke on studies of children's teeth in areas having fluoride in the water where it was found that there was two-thirds less tooth decay than in Marin.

He said studies showed even adults had a reduction of 25 per cent in tooth decay. He said fluorine is as necessary a mineral as iodine and copper, and that at present there is a trace of fluorides in Marin's waters supply.

Dr. Loran said the cost of fluoridation would be approximately 21 cents a person a year.

Area chairmen directing the petition gathering include Joe Cranmer, Tiburon Peninsula; Fred Graham, Kentfield; Mrs. Marie Gunn, Terra Linda; Mrs. Robert Cary, Sleepy Hollow; Mrs. Harry Thomas, Santa Venetia; Mrs. John E. McNear, McNear's Point area; Mrs. Roger Barbey and Mrs. W. L. Turner, Larkspur; Mrs. Alan Young, Mill Valley; Frank Sommer, Woodacre-San Geronimo-Lagunitas-Forest Knolls; Mrs. William Hoxie, Ross.

SIXTH CHILD Daughter Born To Bing Crosby

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bing Crosby is a father again. But this time there's a difference: His sixth-born is a girl.

The six-pound, 15-ounce daughter was born last night to Bing's wife, actress Kathryn Grant, at Queen of Angels Hospital. Bing took her to the hospital two hours earlier.

Bing, 55, has four grown sons by his first wife, the late Dixie Lee, and a 13-month-old son, Harry Lillis III, by Miss Grant. She is 24.

Crosby sipped coffee in the hospital coffee shop and read a newspaper while waiting for the word.

The baby will be named Mary Francis, for an aunt of Kathryn's.

Assault Suspect Released; Court Appearance Set

An 18-year-old Santa Rosa youth, charged with being the ringleader of a gang that beat two Travis Air Force Base airmen last week at Black Point cutoff, has been released from the Marin County jail on the promise of his father that he will appear in Marin Municipal Court on Sept. 25.

The youth, William Martin Irwin, was brought to the county sheriff's office by his father Thursday night after the father learned that there was a bench warrant charging his son with assault with a deadly weapon.

Six Sonoma County youths accused in the same gang beating pleaded innocent of charges against them on Thursday. A seventh youth asked for more time before his plea is entered.

Airman Orval R. Boehler, 20, said he was knocked unconscious with a bottle, two-by-four board and fists. His companion, John Allen Buehler, was less seriously hurt.

Parents Of Drake Pupils Go Back To School Tomorrow

Parents of Sir Francis Drake High School students will go back to school tomorrow night to attend the classes their children do each day.

Drake's annual "Back-to-School" program is expected to draw approximately 500 parents, Principal Harold Allison said. Class cards with the student's schedule will be distributed as visitors arrive.

After a brief program in the gymnasium, at which Allison will welcome parents and explain the purposes of the program, bells will announce the periods during which teachers will conduct 10-minute classes. Questions on counseling will be discussed during study hall periods.

NO 'TRUCK RIDE,' MAKERS SAY

This 1960 Chevrolet truck belies the old derogatory saying "It rides like a truck" because something new has been added in the way of suspension systems, say its manufacturers. Front wheels are independently sprung on torsion rods, rear suspensions are adapted to size — coil springs on light-duty models, stronger but softer leaf springs on bigger vehicles.

Thief Steals Book Of Bridge Tickets

Bridge for the next month or so, but he's going to be hard to catch.

A thief stole a brand new bridge ticket book from the unlocked car of Paul Edwards of 2078 Paradise drive, Tiburon. Edwards discovered the loss yesterday and called the sheriff. Edwards' car was inside his garage when the theft occurred.

Tam Teacher Orientation Meets Set

Four orientation meetings will be held for new teachers of Tamalpais Union High School District, the first at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 24 at the district office, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle has announced.

The three later meetings will be held at the same hour Oct. 8 at Tamalpais High School, Oct. 22 at Redwood High School and Nov. 5 at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Carlisle said, "We have been doing this now for about five years and find it the best way to have teachers become entirely acquainted with the district."

The first meeting will cover personnel policies and procedures; the second, the district educational program; the third, district operation, and the fourth, a summary of the previous three.

'BIGGEST KNOTHEAD'

Pilot's 'Perfect Hit' Downs Companion Jet

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—"It was a perfect hit. In my 17 years of flying, I've never seen a better hit."

Thus did Lt. Col. Montie A. Davis describe his air-to-air missile shot that knocked a jet fighter out of the sky at 38,000 feet yesterday. The pilot parachuted to safety.

"It happened because I'm the world's biggest knothead," Davis told newsmen at Selfridge Air Force Base, where he is commanding officer of the 71st Interceptor Squadron.

Davis, 37, said he didn't know his jet was loaded with deadly missiles and rockets as he flew on a training mission over southern Michigan with Lt. Albert L. Pruden, 25, of Mount Clemens, Mich. Both were flying F102 supersonic Delta Daggers.

Davis aimed at Pruden's target plane and pressed the trigger in make-believe firing. An air-to-air missile struck the plane.

Pruden's plane—a wing shot off—went into a spin and crashed in flames in a farmyard 15 miles northeast of Jackson. A family of three ran from the path of the falling craft.

Pruden bailed out and drifted in his parachute for 45 minutes before landing in a cornfield. He suffered mild shock, a cut foot and bruised leg.

Lawyer, Housewife Top Hub School Tax Drive

Co-chairmen for a campaign for approval of a tax increase in the San Anselmo School District were appointed last night by the district board.

They are A. Lawrence Burbank, an assistant U. S. attorney and father of five boys, and Mrs. Paul Talbot, a mother of three.

Incorporation Is Opposed In Loma Verde

Forty members of the Loma Verde Improvement Assn. last night voted to protest inclusion of their properties in any incorporated city of Novato.

The group, meeting at Loma Verde School, backed the stand previously taken by the board of directors in opposition to inclusion of the subdivision.

Petitions requesting exclusion were passed out to members last night by James A. Swenson, president. He said they will be distributed to all property owners in the area and presented to the board of supervisors at the next public hearing on incorporation, next Monday.

'Cycle Rams Into Store

A youth on a motorcycle "dropped in" on Ed's Auto Supplies in San Rafael last night, knocking a three-square foot hole in the plaster instead of using the door.

Charles Harold Brown of 98 Humboldt avenue, San Anselmo, jumped off his motorcycle in time, but the two-wheeler continued over the curb and crash landed against the wall of the store about 7 p.m. Brown was shaken up but not hurt.

Coleman Wexler, co-owner of the store at Fourth and Cijos streets, said the youth was apparently trying to turn onto Cijos when his throttle stuck.

DOPE

Airport on suspicion of marijuana possession.

Hollingsworth was in county jail today in lieu of $2,000 bail. He is charged with marijuana possession. Phillips, suspected of possessing and selling the narcotic, was in jail without bail. Both were to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Hollingsworth's wife, June, is also charged with marijuana possession. She was not booked at the jail because she is expecting another baby. The Hollingsworths have two small children.

Inspector Giampoli said he and Inspector Argento staked out the homes of the two suspects from 1:30 p.m. yesterday to about 2 a.m. today. Police said they caught Hollingsworth buying two packages of marijuana from Phillips for $40. When caught, Hollingsworth tossed the packages away, said Giampoli. The packages were recovered.

At Phillips' home the inspectors found a coffee can containing some marijuana and several other packages under the floor board of the garage. They also found numerous benzedrine tablets.

Hollingsworth was at liberty on $1,000 bail on a San Mateo County charge of marijuana possession, filed following his arrest at San Francisco Airport. Phillips has no previous narcotic record.

Giampoli said this is the first time in San Rafael that a substantial amount of marijuana has been confiscated.

Phillips did not disclose the source of the marijuana.

They will hold a second organizational meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Brookside School multi-use room with representatives of the six schools to organize steering committees for each school attendance area.

The tax increase proposed is 55 cents—from $1.45 to $2 for the five-year period beginning 1960. An election on the issue is set for Oct. 20.

Supt. Harold R. DePue reported that educational questionnaires will be ready for distribution the end of this week. The questionnaires are an attempt to find out what parents think about their schools.

Bruce MacDonald, principal of Deer Park School, Fairfax, and principal of the 1959 summer school, told the board the school this year served about 600 pupils in fourth through eighth grades.

Expenditures totaled $8,802.82. Estimated income from the state was $8,671, and Fairfax and Kentfield districts each paid $500 for one teacher.

In a discussion of independent operation which begins July 1, 1960, the board directed the superintendent and trustee Philip Bundshu to present a suggested procedure and job specification for the position of superintendent.

A report was made on an experimental program of limited exchange of subjects by two seventh and two eighth grade teachers, generally in the areas of mathematics, English and science.

The board approved the installation of a sprinkler system and grassing of the playground at Hidden Valley School.

A review of the administrative manual for administrative rules and regulations was deferred to an adjourned meeting Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. in Isabel Cook faculty room.

U.S. four armed services, met top-ranking officials of the American government and their wives and stood solemnly during the playing of the U.S.S.R. and American national anthems.

But from the outset of the ride into Washington—a 14-mile ride to the President's guest house near the White House, with Eisenhower in the middle of an open limousine Khrushchev and his wife on either side—it was apparent this was to be no warm reception.

Crowds were 10 deep in the downtown city streets. Scores of them clapped as the limousine passed—but then Ike was in the car, too. The bearers of the flags of the four U.S. armed services got a heartier accolade.

Washington Police Chief Robert V. Murray estimated the crowd from Andrews Field to Blair House at more than 200,000. It ranked far below the throngs that turned out for Queen Elizabeth's last inaugural.

Eisenhower drove with the Khrushchevs to Blair House, where they will stay until Thursday when they start off on a swing through New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Des Moines and Pittsburgh before returning to Washington for vital conversations.

Khrushchev's arrival and drive into the city went off without incident. Security agents had clamped down the severest peacetime measures in history to protect him.

Two Financial Firms Share Housing Notes

Two of the country's largest financial firms, seeking $2,949,000 worth of Marin County Housing Authority short-term notes, came out with a "split decision" as bids were opened this morning in the housing authority office in Marin City.

The successful bidders were Bank of America, which bid 2.91 per cent with a $14 premium, and Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, which entered a bid split three ways varying in amounts ranging from 2.73 per cent and $12 premium to 2.91 per cent and a $17 premium.

A third bidder, Crocker Anglo National Bank at 3.03 per cent with a $60 premium, was unsuccessful.

Formal award was slated for a meeting for the commissioners this afternoon on the basis of $1,049,000 to the Bank of America at 2.91 per cent plus a premium of $4.98, figured on a pro rata basis. In addition, Morgan Trust was to be awarded $900,000 at 2.73 per cent with a $12 premium and $1,000,000 at 2.91 per cent with a $17 premium.

BOARD

the name of the person, Jensen asked Jordan's advice. Jordan, after referring to his office law books, declared the name could not be released—based on Mosk's opinion. He then added that it was questionable whether the board had to announce that it was going to hold a session.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman was assured by Jensen that the contents of the letter were known to the employee and the attorney.

"It's of great interest to the people who pay the tax bills to know the efficiency of a person," Fusselman said. "But I suppose this is to protect the individual from 'conviction' in the public mind. But I think any punitive action should be made public."

"That is exactly what the law requires," Jordan said. The Brown Act in part says that a legislative body cannot be prevented from holding an executive session "to hear complaints or charges brought against such officer or employee unless such officer and employee requests a public hearing."

Allegations made against the employee apparently came from other employees. Fusselman remarked that he heard of the matter before, but had asked the accusers to "put something in writing."

Novato School Board

Trustees of Novato School District will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at district administration office to consider hiring an architect to prepare plans for the proposed new school planned on the Connell site off South Novato boulevard.

Although usually associated with jewelry, platinum is used as a catalyst by refiners in producing today's high octane gasoline.

MARSHA STANDS BY AS JOHN KILLS GOOFUS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A 30-year-old female polar bear named Goofus, a favorite at Fleishacker Zoo since 1937, was killed yesterday by her new mate.

Her attacker was a 10-year-old bear known as John Long. He was brought here just one month ago from the Detroit Zoo.

Zoo officials speculated on the possibility of a triangle. A frisky 6-year-old female named Marsha watched the fatal attack from the sidelines.

Zoo Director Carey Baldwin said John and Marsha hit it off "real well" — but that John "apparently didn't go for Goofus."

COURT

mous resolution was passed by the bar association. Buresh said, protesting the plan.

Buresh argued that the supervisors don't need their chambers more than three days a week. Fusselman countered with a suggestion of a night court.

"Our recommendation is that the room now occupied by the press be used as the judge's chambers," said Buresh. "News-papers are private corporations. I don't want to be interpreted as throwing the press out of the courthouse, but if quarters are to be rented across the street it would be like hiring them for the press — it involves just so much money in either case."

CONFERENCE SPACE

Fusselman said the press could occupy conference space similar to the office of Clerk George S. Jones, which he termed "delightful."

Supervisor Walter R. Castro revealed that he'd heard of lawyers lunching at the Elks Club "talking of taking over the supervisors' chamber... I was quite upset."

In an effort to calm down a situation complicated by some impromptu electric howls from the public address system, Supervisor Gnos called for a summing-up of the bar proposals, and Fusselman repeated, "If you had a night court, you'd not need any of this."

The visitors bowed out on promise of Castro as chairman that "we'll check the whole thing."

Novato School Goodies Stolen

Hungry thieves broke into Hill School in Novato and stole more than 150 packages and bags of goodies, custodian Clarence Vogensen reported to the sheriff yesterday.

Missing are potato chips, cookies, nuts, chocolate covered raisins, and other eatables.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine found the door to the auditorium open, with no sign of forced entry. Once inside, the thieves crawled through an unlocked service window leading from the auditorium into the kitchen, then unscrewed the hasp on the door leading to the storage room where the eats were kept.

County Board Approves 1960 Fair Budget

A 1960 proposed Marin County Fair Budget totaling $271,441 received preliminary approval of the county board of supervisors today and will be passed on to the state Division of Fairs and Expositions.

The grand total compared with 1959 estimates totaling $126,602. Proposed capital outlays, including an item of $102,298 for soil fill, accounted for the increase.

Basis for today's action by the supervisors was a letter from Leon A. deLisle, auditor-controller.

The letter said that the operational portion of the budget has been approved by the fair committee of the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Three major divisions were made for county funds, state funds and state capital outlay-executive order funds.

Under county funds, including such things as gate receipts and miscellaneous revenues including concessions, the letter pointed out: "You are aware no tax money is involved in financing the Marin County Fair at the Art and Garden Center."

State funds comprise $65,000 annually apportioned pari mutuel moneys which Marin has been getting for the past 12 years.

"Pursuant to the 1959 legislation," said the letter, "district and county fairs will no longer receive this allocation automatically, but must be able to justify the need... Marin county's justification of the full $65,000 will be on the basis of necessary capital improvements to the fair ground site at Santa Venetia."

Budgeted capital outlay for 1960, it was explained, takes into account the present fund balance and the $65,000 state fair fund accrual.

Trainer Of Show Horses Dies At Daughter's Home

Charles York, trainer of Arabian stallions throughout the United States until his retirement a few years ago, died yesterday at the home of his daughter in Strawberry at the age of 85, after long illness.

A native of Derby, England, he had achieved fame in the field of training the show horses. Until three years ago, he resided in San Diego.

He was a former member of the Sons of St. George.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, and his daughter, Wilma, at the family home at 23 Strawberry circle. His daughter is director of nurses for the Marin County Health Department in San Rafael.

Private family services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Meeting Called Off

Tomorrow night's regular meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Land Conservation Committee will not be held, according to Chairman Philip W. Leslie.

OBITUARIES

L. H. Greving Dies At 66 After Illness

Louis H. Greving, widely known 30-year resident of Mill Valley and former operator of news stands on the Northwest Pacific ferries, died yesterday at a local rest home after lingering illness. He was 66.

After his service on the old-time ferries, he became news agent at the Mill Valley railroad station and in subsequent years managed the Red Hill liquor store on Throckmorton avenue in Mill Valley. He retired from the store about three years ago due to illness.

He was a native of Keuterville, Ida.

He is survived by his wife, Ruby, at the family home, 110 Nelson avenue, Mill Valley; a son, William H. Greving of Novato, director of grounds for the Novato Unified School District; a daughter, Mrs. Neil E. White of Larkspur; two brothers, Leo of Saratoga and Paul of Fargo, N.D.; three sisters, Mrs. Lillian Benson of Aberdeen, Wash., Mrs. Hannah Cromwell of Gooding, Ida., and Mrs. Clara Grieb of Lewiston, Ida., and by five grandchildren.

He was a member of the Moose Lodge of Mill Valley and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Idaho.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley. Rosary will be recited tomorrow night at 8 at the chapel.

Mass To Be Sung For Fairfax Man

Requiem High Mass for Louis Barbieri, 76, of Fairfax, will be sung at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at S.S. Peter and Paul's Church, San Francisco.

Barbieri died at his home Sunday.

A native of Italy, Barbieri for many years had been a paste maker at the G. P. Celli Marconeri Co., San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maria Barbieri, Fairfax; two sons, John and Anthony Barbieri, San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs. Linda Copolat and Mrs. Rose Masaglia, San Francisco, and five grandchildren.

Friends may call at the chapel of Valente, Marini, Perata and Co., 649 Green street, San Francisco. The rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock tonight at the mortuary.

Froese Services Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for M/Sgt. Samuel Otto Froese, 44, who was accidentally killed yesterday with a deer rifle at his home at 2572 Heatherstone drive, Marinwood, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Hamilton Air Force Base chapel.

Sergeant Froese, a native of Hudson, N.Y., is survived by his wife, Maggie, and by their three children, Samuel Otto Jr.; Alma, 11, and Tingling Anita, 7; his mother, Mrs. Paul F. Patton of New York, and a sister, also of New York.

Interment will be in San Francisco National Cemetery at the Presidio.

Mass Celebrated For Mrs. Pieroni

Requiem Mass for Mary L. Pieroni, 81, mother of Mrs. Margaret Giubbini of Inverness, was celebrated today at St. Philip's Church in Occidental.

Burial was in the Druids Cemetery in Occidental.

Besides Mrs. Giubbini, Mrs. Pieroni is survived by two sons Leo and Lawrence Pieroni, both of Occidental; another daughter, Mrs. Mabel Vaccarza, Occidental; a sister, Mrs. Jennie Blasby of Oakland, two grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Mrs. Pieroni died Sunday at Sebastopol hospital.

White of Larkspur, brother of Leo Greving of Saratoga, Calif., Paul Greving of Fargo, N.D., Mrs. Lillian Benson of Aberdeen, Wash., Mrs. Hannah Cromwell of Gooding, Ida., and Mrs. Clara Grieb of Lewiston, Ida., also survived by five grandchildren; a native of Idaho, aged 66 years; a member of General Assembly of Mooseheart, Lodge No. 67 of Mooseheart, Ill.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral services Thursday, Sept. 17, at 10 a.m. at the Memorial Chapels of Russell and Gooch, 270 Miller avenue, Mill Valley. Rosary will be recited Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the chapel.

YORK — In Mill Valley, Sept. 14, 1959, Charles York, dearly beloved husband of Mrs. Margaret B. York, loving father of Wilma York, a native of Derby, England, aged 85 years; a former member of the Sons of St. George.

Family services will be held Wednesday afternoon at the memorial chapels of Russell and Gooch, 270 Miller avenue, Mill Valley. Interment, Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

CARSON — In Ross, Sept. 11, 1959, Nella A. Carson, wife of the late Robert N. Carson, mother of Mrs. Olive N. Chapman of Ross and Robert N. Carson Jr. of Attentborough, England, grandmother of T. Carson O'Connell and Mrs. Keith Turner, also survived by four great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild; a native of Louisiana, aged 98 years; a member of California Chapter, OES of San Francisco and Daughters of the Confederacy.

Funeral services were held Monday, Sept. 14, 1959, at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael; interment, Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received in our recent bereavement, in the loss of our beloved mother, Marie J. Santos. We especially wish to thank the Mill Valley Ambulance, Dr. Joseph A. Moore and the Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

'Officer Of Month' Awards Planned

Law enforcement officers in Marin who turn in outstanding work will be honored as "officer of the Month" beginning next month.

The program, installed to recognize the important role played by the patrolmen, was initiated by Marin Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and accepted enthusiastically at a meeting of all law enforcement officials. Sheriff Mountanos and Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich called the meeting to sound out the opinions of all chiefs, the warden at San Quentin, and Captain Theodore Parnow of the California Highway Patrol.

A five-man committee headed by the sheriff, district attorney, and one police chief (to alternate on the committee in alphabetical order), will select the outstanding officer for each month from among those recommended from the various departments.

The various department chiefs and administrators will not be eligible for consideration as officer of the month. Sheriff Mountanos explained that the program was devised to provide incentive and recognition for the rank-and-file patrolmen, who do the "leg work" in crime detection and prevention and public safety.

Since the program will start in October, the first officer of the month will be selected in early November.

The law enforcement officers also adopted a new road block system that will go into effect in case of major crimes such as murder, robbery, and felony hit-and-run cases. San Quentin officials, highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies, various police departments, and the County Fire Department are ready to take their posts at pre-designated check points as soon as the road-block alarm is flashed from the sheriff's office.

Captain Parnow of the highway patrol explained that the system is designed to block all escape routes over the bridges and into Sonoma County. Petaluma police and Richmond police are cooperating in the system.

Two test runs will be made each year, with a simulated "getaway car" used to see how effectively the system works, Parnow announced.

Railway stations in Japan now have large signs, printed in both English and Japanese, giving the name of the town or city.

ABUSES CITED

Needy Children Aid Program Due Probe

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state's aid to needy children program is in for an investigation, motivated by criticism that abuses are endangering the 11-million-dollar-a-month operation.

Although acknowledging the existence of abuses, Social Welfare Director John M. Wedemeyer said they occur in only a small number of some 200,000 cases handled monthly.

Wedemeyer said he ordered the investigation to correct the abuses and to determine means of improving the constantly expanding program.

Such abuses as exist, he said, can be weeded out and corrected by intensive policing.

Withholding aid or using other punitive methods suggested by critics would only harm the children, he added.

Payments range from $145 a month for one child to $371 for nine, with $5 added for each additional child. The state pays 39 per cent of the cost, counties 20 per cent, and the federal government 41 per cent.

Main criticism leveled at the program have been that it allows fathers to pretend desertion so children can receive payments, which are not always used for the children, and that it sanctions illegitimacy by allowing payments for illegitimate children.

Critics say, too, that destitute families are flocking to California to take advantage of the program, in effect since 1935.

Third Issue Of Sausalito Magazine Out

A third issue of Sausalito's quarterly Contact magazine, appeared during the weekend. It incorporates the 23-year-old literary quarterly originally called the Intermountain, then the Rocky Mountain Review of Utah and more recently the Western Review issued by a writers' workshop at the University of Iowa. For a time it had its home at the University of Kansas.

An editorial review compares the present decade to the "great ferment" of the 1920s and goes on: "This time the ferment seems to be most active in the West and to have its center in San Francisco, as if the literary coming-of-age toward which WR and its predecessors have labored, the full-scale entry of the West, has finally begun."

Contact is described as making "a lively feature of contemporary art and photography" with articles of general interest about contemporary thought and activity while the Western Review's non-fictional prose was entirely made up of criticism and reviews.

First article of the current issue is "The Decline of the Left" by C. Wright Mills. Fiction opens with a contrast — "The Merry Month of May" by Tom McAfee and "Suicides" by Cesare Pavese. Bill Casey contributes satire in "The Fastest Insight Alive." Art includes sketches, photographs of wood sculpture and etchings.

Editors of the quarterly are Calvin Kentfield and William H. Ryan of Sausalito.

Marin Student Wins Arizona Scholarship

Richard Corliss Spackman was presented with a University of Arizona scholarship given by the university's Bay Area Alumni Club when he enrolled last week.

Richard, a June 1959 graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, plans to major in physical education. Mr. and Mrs. George A. Spackman have returned home to 174 Butterfield road, San Anselmo, after spending several days in Tucson, Ariz., while their son enrolled.

Sixto Faces Tough Test In Richmond Feature Tonight

Sixto Rodriguez, light-heavy-weight champion of California, battles seasoned Eddie Cotton of Seattle in a 10-round match rated "dead even" tonight at Richmond Auditorium.

Rodriguez, determined San Anselmo boxer who goes all out in every fight, boasts recent wins over Junius Washington and Monroe Ratliff.

He has lost but one bout in 23 professional engagements. But the state champ has never fought a boxer with Cotton's power and experience.

The Seattle invader has stopped 22 opponents in racking up 35 wins in 45 bouts over a period of 12 years.

He has only been knocked out once in his career and last year went the 10-round distance with Archie Moore.

In his last two starts, Cotton dropped a split decision to Sonny Ray in a nationally-televised bout and whipped Roque Maravilla.

The prelims are as follows: Julio Lau, San Francisco, vs. Eddie Moore, Oakland, lightweights; Jimmy George, Oakland, vs. Rudy Bejarano, San Jose, lightweights; James Lewis, San Leandro, vs. Johnny Cate, Oakland, lightweights; Vincent Castro, Stockton, vs. Joe Martinez, San Jose, bantamweights.

First bout starts at 8:30 p.m.

Ex-Open Champ Boros Wins Dallas Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Julius Boros, who won his eighth tournament in 10 years of campaigning when he bagged the $25,000 Dallas Open yesterday, is on the way to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for a little fishing to break the monotony of the golf tour.

Some say big Julius is about to wind up his career.

His record shows that he's toughest when the stakes are high. He has won $186,322.09, and $101,000 of it came in first place money.

Boros took top money for the second time in Dallas yesterday when he won the Dallas Open by a stroke. His previous triumph here was one of the big ones he has grabbed, the National Open in 1952.

The Hungarian from Mid Pines, N.C., had a par 70 to take the Dallas Open title. It gave him 274 for 72 holes and a stroke margin over host pro Earl Stewart, Dow Finisterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex.

Finishing fifth was Jon Gustin, the freshman on the tour from Gladwyne, Pa., who was tied with Boros starting the final round. Gustin floundered for a double bogey and a bogey on the front nine to throw away his chances for $3,500 first money.

I-J SERIES ON MARIN LEAGUE GRID OUTLOOK

Independent-Journal readers will get a preview of the new Marin County Athletic League's first football season starting tomorrow when the first in a series of articles on the six teams will be published.

Probable stars, bright spots and problems of each team will be highlighted in the series. Tomorrow's first article will feature Coach Bob Troppman's Redwood Giants. On subsequent days the stories will include Tamalpais, San Rafael, Sir Francis Drake, Marin Catholic and Novato high schools.

Badminton Class

The San Rafael Recreation and Park Department announced today that a badminton class for teen-agers and adults will be held on Wednesday nights at Davidson School gym.

The school is located at Woodland avenue and Lindero street, San Rafael.

Participants must furnish their own equipment for the 7:30-9:30 p.m. class. Instruction will be given by Herb Witt.

FINISH OF THE DIPSEA

Jim Imperiale, 38-year-old runner from Mill Valley, is pictured nearing finish line Sunday as he won the 49th running of the Dipsea Handicap Race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach. Imperiale, coach of the victorious Marin Athletic Club team, had a 15-minute handicap. His actual time was 62 minutes, 44 seconds. Tim Kelly and Bob Hope of the Marin A.C. were second and third, respectively. Fernando Leon of Tucson, Ariz., was fourth to finish, but was first in actual time of 49 minutes, 55 seconds.

S.F.'s Bob Roos Is Halfway Leader In Golf Medal Play

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI)—Bob Roos of San Francisco carried an aching tooth and a fine golf swing onto Pebble Beach golf course today in an effort to make a two-stroke lead stand up for medalist honors in the California State Amateur Golf Championship.

Groaning and moaning over the pain from an exposed nerve in one of his molars, Roos nonetheless shot a three-under-par 69 on beautiful Cypress Point yesterday to take the lead at the halfway point in the qualifying portion of the tournament.

Playing with defending champion Eli Bariteau Jr., of Santa Cruz, Roos knocked in five birdies and suffered only two bogies at Cypress. Bariteau, exempt from qualifying but trying to play himself into shape so he can defend his crown, played one-under-par golf to Cypress' famed 16th hole where he knocked a couple of tee shots into the ocean and finally picked up.

In second place going into the final day of qualifying for the match play event was Don Boysen, Solano Beach, with 39-32-71, with three players grouped at even par 72—Cy Pennell of Los Altos, Kent Winton of Stanford University and Merced, and long-hitting Frank Hoover of Bakersfield.

Indians Still In A.L. Race—Just Barely

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strange how one victory can make a man adjust his point of view.

Sunday after his Cleveland Indians had been beaten twice in Yankee Stadium and Chicago had won to boost its first-place margin to 5½ games, manager Joe Gordon greeted reporters: "Come in and join the wake."

Yesterday after his Indians had knocked off the Yankees 8-5 while Boston was upending the White Sox 9-3, the same man said: "I'm not ready to concede. We've still got a chance."

The chance is slim, but it's still there. Take a look.

Chicago has nine games left to play to Cleveland's 10. If the White Sox win six, it's all over, even if the Indians win all theirs. In other words, any combination of six will lift the White Sox to their first pennant in 40 years.

But here's the rub. All of Chicago's nine remaining games are against first division clubs—two against New York, six against Detroit and one against Cleveland. On the other hand, only one of the Indians' remaining 10 games is against a first division club. The Indians have seven against Kansas City and two against Boston.

In other American League games Washington blanked Detroit 5-0 and Baltimore whipped Kansas City 9-4.

Oliver Wins Golf Tourney At Tahoe

CRYSTAL BAY, Nev. (UPI)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, Denver, shot a six-under-par 62 yesterday to capture the fifth annual $4,000 Lake Tahoe pro-amateur golf tournament with a 195 total.

The tourney was played over the Tahoe City, Brockway and Glenbrook courses. Oliver fired his sizzling 62 round on the Tahoe City course.

Larry Montes of Colma and Doug Howe of Little River, tied for second at 200. At 201 was Jack Lebowitz of Long Beach.

Giants Hurting For Hits; Lead Cut To 1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"We've got to get some hitting. Runs are coming at a premium. It sure is tough to get runs."

Manager Bill Rigney sat dejected in the clubhouse after his National League-leading San Francisco Giants had just lost to Cincinnati 4-1 yesterday.

"Jim Davenport may play third base and I'm going to shake the lineup," Rigney said.

"The players aren't tense. They just aren't hitting. I don't know what changes I'll make but I'll think of something."

Davenport, the regular third baseman, injured a knee Aug. 17. He has been relieved at third by outfielder Jackie Brandt and Danny O'Connell, both of whom have committed errors.

MAYS HOMERS

The only score for the home club came on Willie Mays' homer after the Giants trailed 3-0, for the Reds and allowed just five hits through seven innings before tiring and giving way to Brooks Lawrence.

The loss cut the Giants' lead to a single game over the Milwaukee Braves, who defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers last night, 4-1.

Since Sept. 9 when the Giants led by three games, they have won two and lost three. Only once did they pile up a big score—the 9-1 victory over Philadelphia Saturday. The other triumph was by 1-0. They have lost 5-3 to Pittsburgh, 1-0 to Philadelphia and now the opener of the two-game series with Cincinnati 4-1.

ANTONELLI LOSES

Loser was lefty Johnny Antonelli who now has missed twice in his bid to win his 20th game. Johnny Temple touched him for a home run in the third, substitute catcher Dutch Dotterer drove in two runs with a pair of singles and scored the other one on a double by former Giant Whitey Lockman in the ninth.

Today's pitching assignments went to youthful Mike McCormick of San Francisco, who lost his last two outings by 1-0, and righthander Jay Hook of the Reds.

Each of the top three contenders have 11 games remaining. The Braves will have a golden opportunity this weekend when they meet the last place Phillies while the Giants and Dodgers are battling each other.

Win Mixed Doubles

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Neale Fraser and Mrs. Margaret DuPont won the national mixed doubles tennis championship for the second straight year yesterday with a 7-5, 13-15, 6-2 victory over Bob Marks of Australia and Janet Hopps of Seattle.

Pier Work Nearly Done; May Be Completed In Two Weeks

One of the biggest jobs ever accomplished in recent years by the members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club is nearing completion.

Redecking of the pier and installing new guard rails has been progressing the past two months. It is hoped that the pier will be opened to fishing within the next two weeks.

Leo Ciucci, co-chairman with "Babe" Dahl are to be congratulated on doing a fine job, with the good turnout of workers.

Ciucci has given many days of work and has done a great service to the club. Scores of other members have given hours of work.

New bait boards and benches for the pier are being made.

There is still a great deal of work to be done and members are asked to help this weekend.

Fellows—we can finish this job during the next two weeks, so come out and give us a lift.

Pier repair workers:

Bob Fagg, R. Hille, Bob Dixon, A. Colombo, Roy V. Sapp, S. Rosenthal, C. Campomenosi, L. Duffy, C. M. Smith, Bill Cochran, Clint Evans, Ed Pierce, West Thomas, Dr. Gail D. Adams, J. De Martini, Roy Sanders, Koe Bianco, Joe Scalfidi, Jerry Van Souest, C. Green, J. Herrick, Red Scanlon, John Berque, John L. Milani, Patterson, Samuel T. Hollen-Ray A. Dahlman, George A. Beck, Arnold E. Anglin, Maurice J. McCue, George J. Graham, Harold H. Paulsen, Ernest Mundson, Joe V. Whitely, William J. Bain, Joe Delchini, Fred E. Stubbe, R. Robinson, Loyal Peacock, Ellis Springer, Al Ferrar, Gordon Dixon, Leo Ciucci, Monty Marzetta, Ernie Mellen, Babe Dahl, Howard Chucho, Paul Ware, L. Screpa, Henry Lonsdale, Al Wicht, Bert Norris, Harold Hewitt, Bob Friman, Harry Friman, Steve Lato, Lewis Ankney, Doc Amos, William O'Shaughnessy, Don Scaglioli, Fritz Johansen, Len Hausler and Paul Jones.

Perhaps there have been others who are not listed due to failure of workers to sign the register when reporting for work.

It is requested that workers sign in with the chairman when they show up for work. This is the only way the chairman can keep a complete list of workers.

The next regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 22, in the Clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

The guest speaker will be Thompson Walker, who is associated with the Junior Museum. He will speak on the Wood Duck which is displayed in one of the cases at the junior museum.

These display cases are used by the public schools in the county to help teach conservation to the children. The first display is on the "Night Flying Heron," the second on the "Life Cycle of the Steelhead," and the third is on the "Wood Duck." When a newborn fawn is available it will be placed in the fourth display case. It has been suggested that a skunk family be placed in the fifth case.

The Auxiliary has donated the five display cases to the museum. The work of mounting the animals and birds has been done at the museum by Mr. Walker.

A spaghetti dinner will be served at the Clubhouse Saturday night, Sept. 19, from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. Reservation chairman is Mrs. John P. Marzetta. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Memberships in the Auxiliary are still open. For information call Mrs. Stephen Lato, president, or Mrs. William A. Murray, secretary, or write P.O. Box 94, San Rafael.

The meeting to be held next Tuesday will begin at 8 p.m. Initiation will take place, followed by entertainment and refreshments. Husbands are welcome.

Ducks Unlimited Rally Receipts Set Record

Another Ducks Unlimited Rally has just been completed and the Marin Rod and Gun Club, through chairman Emil Bianco, is happy to report of a very successful conclusion.

The cooperation and membership support received was most gratifying, resulting in one of the most successful of any DU rally. Total receipts of $2,040.00 exceeded all previous years.

Marin County received six of the prizes, including the second prize of a Trailorboat with 35 h.p. motor and trailer which was won by Fred May.

Bianco wishes to thank all the committee chairmen of the various communities, and all those participating in the sales of tickets, for the excellent support given him in this worthwhile project. Special acknowledgement is made to Larry Lavers and Emil Pholi for their outstanding sales.

DUST BOWL

What had been the finest breeding ground in Canada became almost "dust bowl" area. The canals dug to drain the great "duck factory" carried off the melting snow water and the rain water, and the comparatively few birds that went north produced no young and many of the mature birds died during the molting period because they could not reach water.

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service could not spend our United States dollars in Canada, so Ducks Unlimited was formed, and with contributions from our duck hunters, began damming the canals and creating large storage lakes for water which was carried through ditches to maintain the marshes.

Within a few years the duck population began to increase, the seasons were lengthened and the bag limit increased. There is considerable maintenance work to be done annually. More new projects must be completed to insure a crop of young birds each year even though drought occurs, as is the case this year. There is still much to be done to protect the investment and guarantee future sport.

Auxiliary To Meet Next Week At Club

The next regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 22, in the Clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

The guest speaker will be Thompson Walker, who is associated with the Junior Museum. He will speak on the Wood Duck which is displayed in one of the cases at the junior museum.

These display cases are used by the public schools in the county to help teach conservation to the children. The first display is on the "Night Flying Heron," the second on the "Life Cycle of the Steelhead," and the third is on the "Wood Duck." When a newborn fawn is available it will be placed in the fourth display case. It has been suggested that a skunk family be placed in the fifth case.

The Auxiliary has donated the five display cases to the museum. The work of mounting the animals and birds has been done at the museum by Mr. Walker.

A spaghetti dinner will be served at the Clubhouse Saturday night, Sept. 19, from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. Reservation chairman is Mrs. John P. Marzetta. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Memberships in the Auxiliary are still open. For information call Mrs. Stephen Lato, president, or Mrs. William A. Murray, secretary, or write P.O. Box 94, San Rafael.

The meeting to be held next Tuesday will begin at 8 p.m. Initiation will take place, followed by entertainment and refreshments. Husbands are welcome.

D. U. Trustee Speaker For Club Meeting

Richard Jose, a trustee of Ducks Unlimited, will be the guest speaker at the membership meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Friday evening, September 18th.

Mr. Jose has long been associated with Ducks Unlimited, and will speak of the work done by that organization in restoring the Pacific flyaway and maintaining an adequate supply of ducks for hunters. He will relate the work done in the nesting grounds in Canada and the cooperation obtained from Mexico during the winter nesting season there.

There will also be interesting motion pictures so whether you are a duck hunter, or not, plan now to attend the meeting and have a full evening of entertainment.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Duck Hunters Await Start Of '59 Season

California duck hunters are awaiting with eagerness the opening of duck season less than a month away.

From every indication ducks will be plentiful. Early flights of ducks are concentrated in the Sacramento Valley. Local hatches of birds is exceptionally good and with real duck hunting weather conditions for the opener hunting should be good.

A 94-day waterfowl season will begin at noon Oct. 7 and continue through January 8 as the result of regulations adopted by the California Fish and Game Commission.

FEDERAL RULES

The regulations were adopted within the framework allowed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

After the noon opener on Wednesday, October 7, shooting hours for all migratory waterfowl will be from sunrise to sunset. In previous years, waterfowl hunters were permitted to begin shooting one-half hour before sunrise.

The 1959-60 regulations are as follows:

Ducks—Bag and possession limit for ducks will be five birds daily and, after the opening day, 10 in possession. Bag and possession limit must not include more than two canvasbacks, redheads, or ruddy ducks or the aggregate of these species.

Geese—Bag and possession limit is six geese with not more than three of the dark species. In District 22 (parts of Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties), one Canada goose or sub-species may be taken. In District 22, the goose season is from October 7 through December 13.

Coots—October 7 to January 8. Bag and possession limit 25 birds.

Black sea brant—November 10 to January 8. Bag and possession limit 3 birds.

Snipe—November 28 through December 27. Bag and possession limit 8 birds.

Canvasback Ducks Are Disappearing

The canvasback species of duck is rapidly disappearing. At the present time a survey is being made to determine the cause.

Hunters are asked to save the right wing of the ducks and send them into the research station.

Emil Bianco will be glad to inform interested hunters how to secure the containers with insect crystals and since there is no spoilage, the wings are little bother other than mailing.

Let's go fellows—do your part.

Bears hibernate because food is scarce in midwinter. Where there is little or no snow to cover up food, bears generally do not hibernate.

LIMITS TAKEN Salmon Fishing Good Outside Golden Gate

Salmon fishing outside the Golden Gate improved the past weekend. Limits of salmon up to 21 pounds were taken.

Fish were taken near the lightship. Trolling with bait and spoons were used with good success.

Now is the time to plan to take that salmon fishing trip—see your sports store or sports-fisher.

The Department of Fish and Game reminded ocean salmon fishermen today that after September 15, when the commercial salmon season closes, all sport-caught ocean salmon must be dye-marked on both sides. The regulation is intended to discourage commercial sale of sport-caught salmon.

Each salmon must be marked from head to tail on both sides with a half-inch wide stripe of bright red. It can be of any permanent USP certified food or drug coloring.

Ordinary food coloring sold in most grocery stores will probably work OK, the department said. Some manufacturers are producing a special dye packaged in dauber bottles. These are sold in bait shops in major ocean salmon fishing areas and some party boats provide them.

The dye-marking regulation does not apply to salmon caught in inland waters.

The marking regulation for ocean-caught salmon will be in effect until next April 15th, when the commercial salmon season re-opens. The department also reminded ocean anglers that the ocean salmon season for sport fishermen closes Sunday, November 15, south of Tomales Point, including all bays except Tomales Bay. There is no closed season north of Tomales Point, including Tomales Bay and all bays lying to the north.

1958 Sports Fishing Haul Sets Record

Ocean party boat sports fishermen hauled in a record 3,950,880 fish during 1958 and set three other new records during the year.

The record highs were:

Barracuda, 782,723, well over the 577,184 record set the previous year.

Bonito, 422,568, almost doubling the high of 258,555 caught in 1957; and Lingcod, 39,801, slightly over 1957's catch of 38,012, the previous high mark.

Ocean anglers last year caught more than seven fish per day during 515,152 angler days of salt water fishing. Record number of angler days was set in 1951 at 556,949.

Rockfish continued to lead the ocean catch. In 1958 ocean anglers took 1,561,132 of this species. This is up a bit from the 1957 catch of 1,395,151, but well below the record set in 1956 at 2,036,708 fish.

The leading species in 1958 were:

Rockfish 1,561,132; barracuda 782,723; kelp or sand bass 653,671; bonito 422,568; Pacific mackerel 136,607; yellowtail 123,384; salmon 52,676; lingcod 39,801; white seabass 34,039; jack mackerel 27,867; white croaker 20,000; sheephead 18,120; California halibut 16,192; sculpin 13,743; cabezon 9,909; miscellaneous flatfish 9,265; albacore 6,482; ocean whitefish 6,143; bluefin tuna 884; skipjack 491; yellowfin tuna 13; all other species 15,170.

Help Still Needed To Complete Pier At Rod-Gun Club

Do you want to fish within the next three weeks from the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier? Yes, well then come to the pier any day in the week, including Saturday and Sunday. We still have a big job ahead of us. You don't have to be a carpenter or a painter, but it would help. We have a big cleanup job to do. If you drive a pickup truck please bring it out, we can use it.

So, let's go, gang, and let's not let 10 or 15 fellows do all of the work. Come to the meeting Friday night. Why not come down early, take a look at your pier, and see what a wonderful job the fellows are doing. Remember, the sooner the pier is finished the sooner you can fish.

San Jose Board Asked Why Merger Opposed

The chairman of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night called on trustees of the San Jose School District to state their reasons for opposing unification of their district with Novato.

Mrs. Helen Wallace, conducting the first of three public hearings on the proposal to merge the two districts, declared: "People are looking to the San Jose trustees for their reasons . . . To my way of thinking, there has been no good reason given."

San Jose trustees, in a public statement last month, said the board "at the present time does not recommend unification with the Novato Unified School District. The San Jose School District is in the process of expansion which can best be appreciated and understood by those who have lived with the internal problems of rapid growth."

Last night's hearing was held in the multi-use room of Novato's Marion School. Eight persons, including Mrs. Wallace, attended—five of them school officials.

Representing the Novato school district were board members Leonora Dougherty and Earl Marshall, Supt. William J. J. Smith and Ray Monson, principal of Lu Sutton School. Assisting Mrs. Wallace was Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the county superintendent.

Two more hearings will be held this week by the committee: one at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lynwood School, the other at 8 p.m. Thursday at Loma Verde School.

'BUGABOO' HIT

Marshall said last night that proponents of the merger should dispell "this old bugaboo that one of the districts would be absorbed and lost if the two of them combined. Actually, the people would be forming a new district, not joining anyone."

"I think it is a baseless fear," declared Mrs. Wallace, "that unification might prove harmful in some way to the San Jose Area. Residents of that district have everything to gain by considering that Novato is their community. The county master plan shows that almost all future industrial development in North Marin will be in Novato."

Superintendent Smith, in answer to a question by Irving E. Tufts Jr. of Novato, gave assurance that incorporation of Novato would have no effect on the boundary lines of a new unified school district—"although it might have some psychological effects."

TWO ADVANTAGES

Smith listed two advantages to unification: Teachers in high school and the intermediate grades could easily coordinate curriculum, and facilities and personnel of both districts could be shared to mutual advantage.

A unification election last May failed to gain a majority in the San Jose district, although it passed by a wide margin in the Novato district. A majority supporting the plan in each district is necessary before the unification can take place.

TEST CASE LOOMS

Three Named To Draft Law On Housing Bias

The Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination last night took the first step toward a law with teeth against discriminatory housing practices when a subcommittee was appointed to draw up a tentative ordinance for presentation to the county board of supervisors.

Armed with approximately 40 cases of bias in local housing and reams of similar ordinances from other communities, the subcommittee of three is charged with coming up with a definite program by the next full committee meeting on Oct. 12.

Serving on the subcommittee are Dr. Benjamin Reist, professor of ethics at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo; Steve Warshaw, director of promotion for University of California press; and Lloyd Grandi, San Rafael realty broker who is serving as chairman.

At the same time, the committee requested County Supervisor Vera Schultz to go before the Marin County Real Estate Board with an immediate test case of possible housing bias.

The case, according to Mrs. Schultz, involves a "highly qualified Negro recently appointed by Governor Edmund G. Brown to one of the most important state penal commissions" and who desires to live in Marin County.

Now living in the Los Angeles area, the man, his wife and 10-month-old baby wish to rent a house but would buy if no rental is available, Mrs. Schultz said.

She was asked to go before the realtors with the case and ask for a definite answer on the possibility of housing for the family.

"This is an excellent test case," said Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, author, professor of semantics and member of the committee. "It is not often that we can come up with a highly qualified member of a minority group with money in his pocket and the moving van waiting in front of his house."

Introduced to the meeting last night in the Marin City Community Hall was Dr. John Bodo, recently appointed professor of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Dr. Bodo, formerly of Princeton, N. J., reviewed his experiences in similar fights against discrimination and offered his services to the local committee.

The Oct. 12 meeting of the group will be held in the courthouse. Last night's meeting was hosted by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Marin City Tenants Council, which relinquished its meeting in favor of the committee on discrimination.

The tenants council will meet at 8 p.m. Sept. 21.

Planner To Talk At Mill Valley

Marin County Planning Director Mary Summers will be the speaker at tonight's meeting of the Mill Valley Planning Commission. She is expected to discuss the basic theories of community planning.

The open meeting will be held in the council chambers of the city hall at 8 o'clock with R. Lannert Iglehart, chairman, presiding.

Some Changes Due

WAUKESHA, Wis. (P)—The Waukesha County district attorney's office will review all cases since the first of the year in which speeds of motorists were clocked by squad cars.

The sheriff's department discovered it has been using a squad car in which the speedometer was 12 miles an hour off.

County Urged To Buy Net Depot Acreage

The Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs voted last night to urge the county board of supervisors to purchase 19 acres of the former Tiburon Naval Net Depot.

The waterfront property opposite Angel Island is for sale by the federal government for $41,000.

A second motion was passed asking that "in development of the property into a park, due caution be given to the interests of residents of the area," reported Arthur K. Smart, president of the federation. Vote on the two motions was unanimous by representatives of 10 of the 14 improvement clubs that belong to the federation, Smart said.

Albert Geiseke and Dr. Fenimore Cady Jr. of the Paradise Property Owners Assn. said they were afraid the net depot land would be changed to a "commercial area" by a concessionaire allowed to develop it as a park by the county.

James Fletcher, chairman of the county recreation commission, said plans to have the park developed by a concessionaire did not mean the county had in mind an amusement park. He said plans were to install a boat launching ramp and to develop the area for swimming and fishing.

Neat Haul

TUCSON, Ariz. (P)—A purse containing $225 in cash and a $150 gold compact was stolen during a party at a Tucson home. Several guests said they saw a young man calmly rifling the purses but thought he was just a son of one of the party goers.

POGO AND PALS KEEPING PACE WITH HEADLINES

Independent-Journal devotees of Pogo have always contended that there is much truth in its comedy.

This is startling illustrated in today's sequence with arrival by rocket of Mr. Bear (who bears a striking resemblance to a world-famed figure who made a long journey today).

From now on for a few days, if you find the telegraph news on page 1 just too hard to take, turn to Pogo for a reasonable equivalent, specially flavored and cooked to a satirical turn.

Gate Playhouse Slates Tryouts

Actors, singers and dancers in Marin will have a chance to take part in one of Broadway's most popular musicals when the Sausalito Gate Playhouse holds auditions tomorrow at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 4 p.m. for "Annie Get Your Gun."

The Irving Berlin musical will be presented in October following the current presentation of Jean Anouilh's romantic comedy, "Time Remembered."

Murder Suspect Pleads Innocent

REDWOOD CITY (P)—Alexander Robillard XIV has pleaded innocent to a charge that he murdered Policeman Eugene Doran Aug. 5 of Hillsborough.

Robillard, 19, also pleaded innocent yesterday of burglary and robbery.

Judge Aylett R. Cotton set Oct. 19 for the murder trial and Nov. 2 for trial on the two other charges.

Fairfax Bans Parking On Three Streets

The Fairfax City Council last night reluctantly passed a resolution prohibiting parking on all of Meernaa avenue and parts of Bolinas avenue and Cascade drive.

The resolution became necessary under an agreement with the California Division of Highways for use of gasoline tax funds to pay for paving of the streets. It becomes effective immediately upon installation of "no parking" signs.

'NO ALTERNATIVE'

The council passed the resolution "since it had no alternative," Mayor Edward A. Smith said. But he indicated that if enough protests were received by the city, an appeal could be taken to the state Division of Highways.

The easterly side of Bolinas, the northerly side of Cascade from Bolinas to 1,200 feet west, and both sides of Cascade from there to Meadow way are affected by the "no parking" resolution, besides Meernaa avenue.

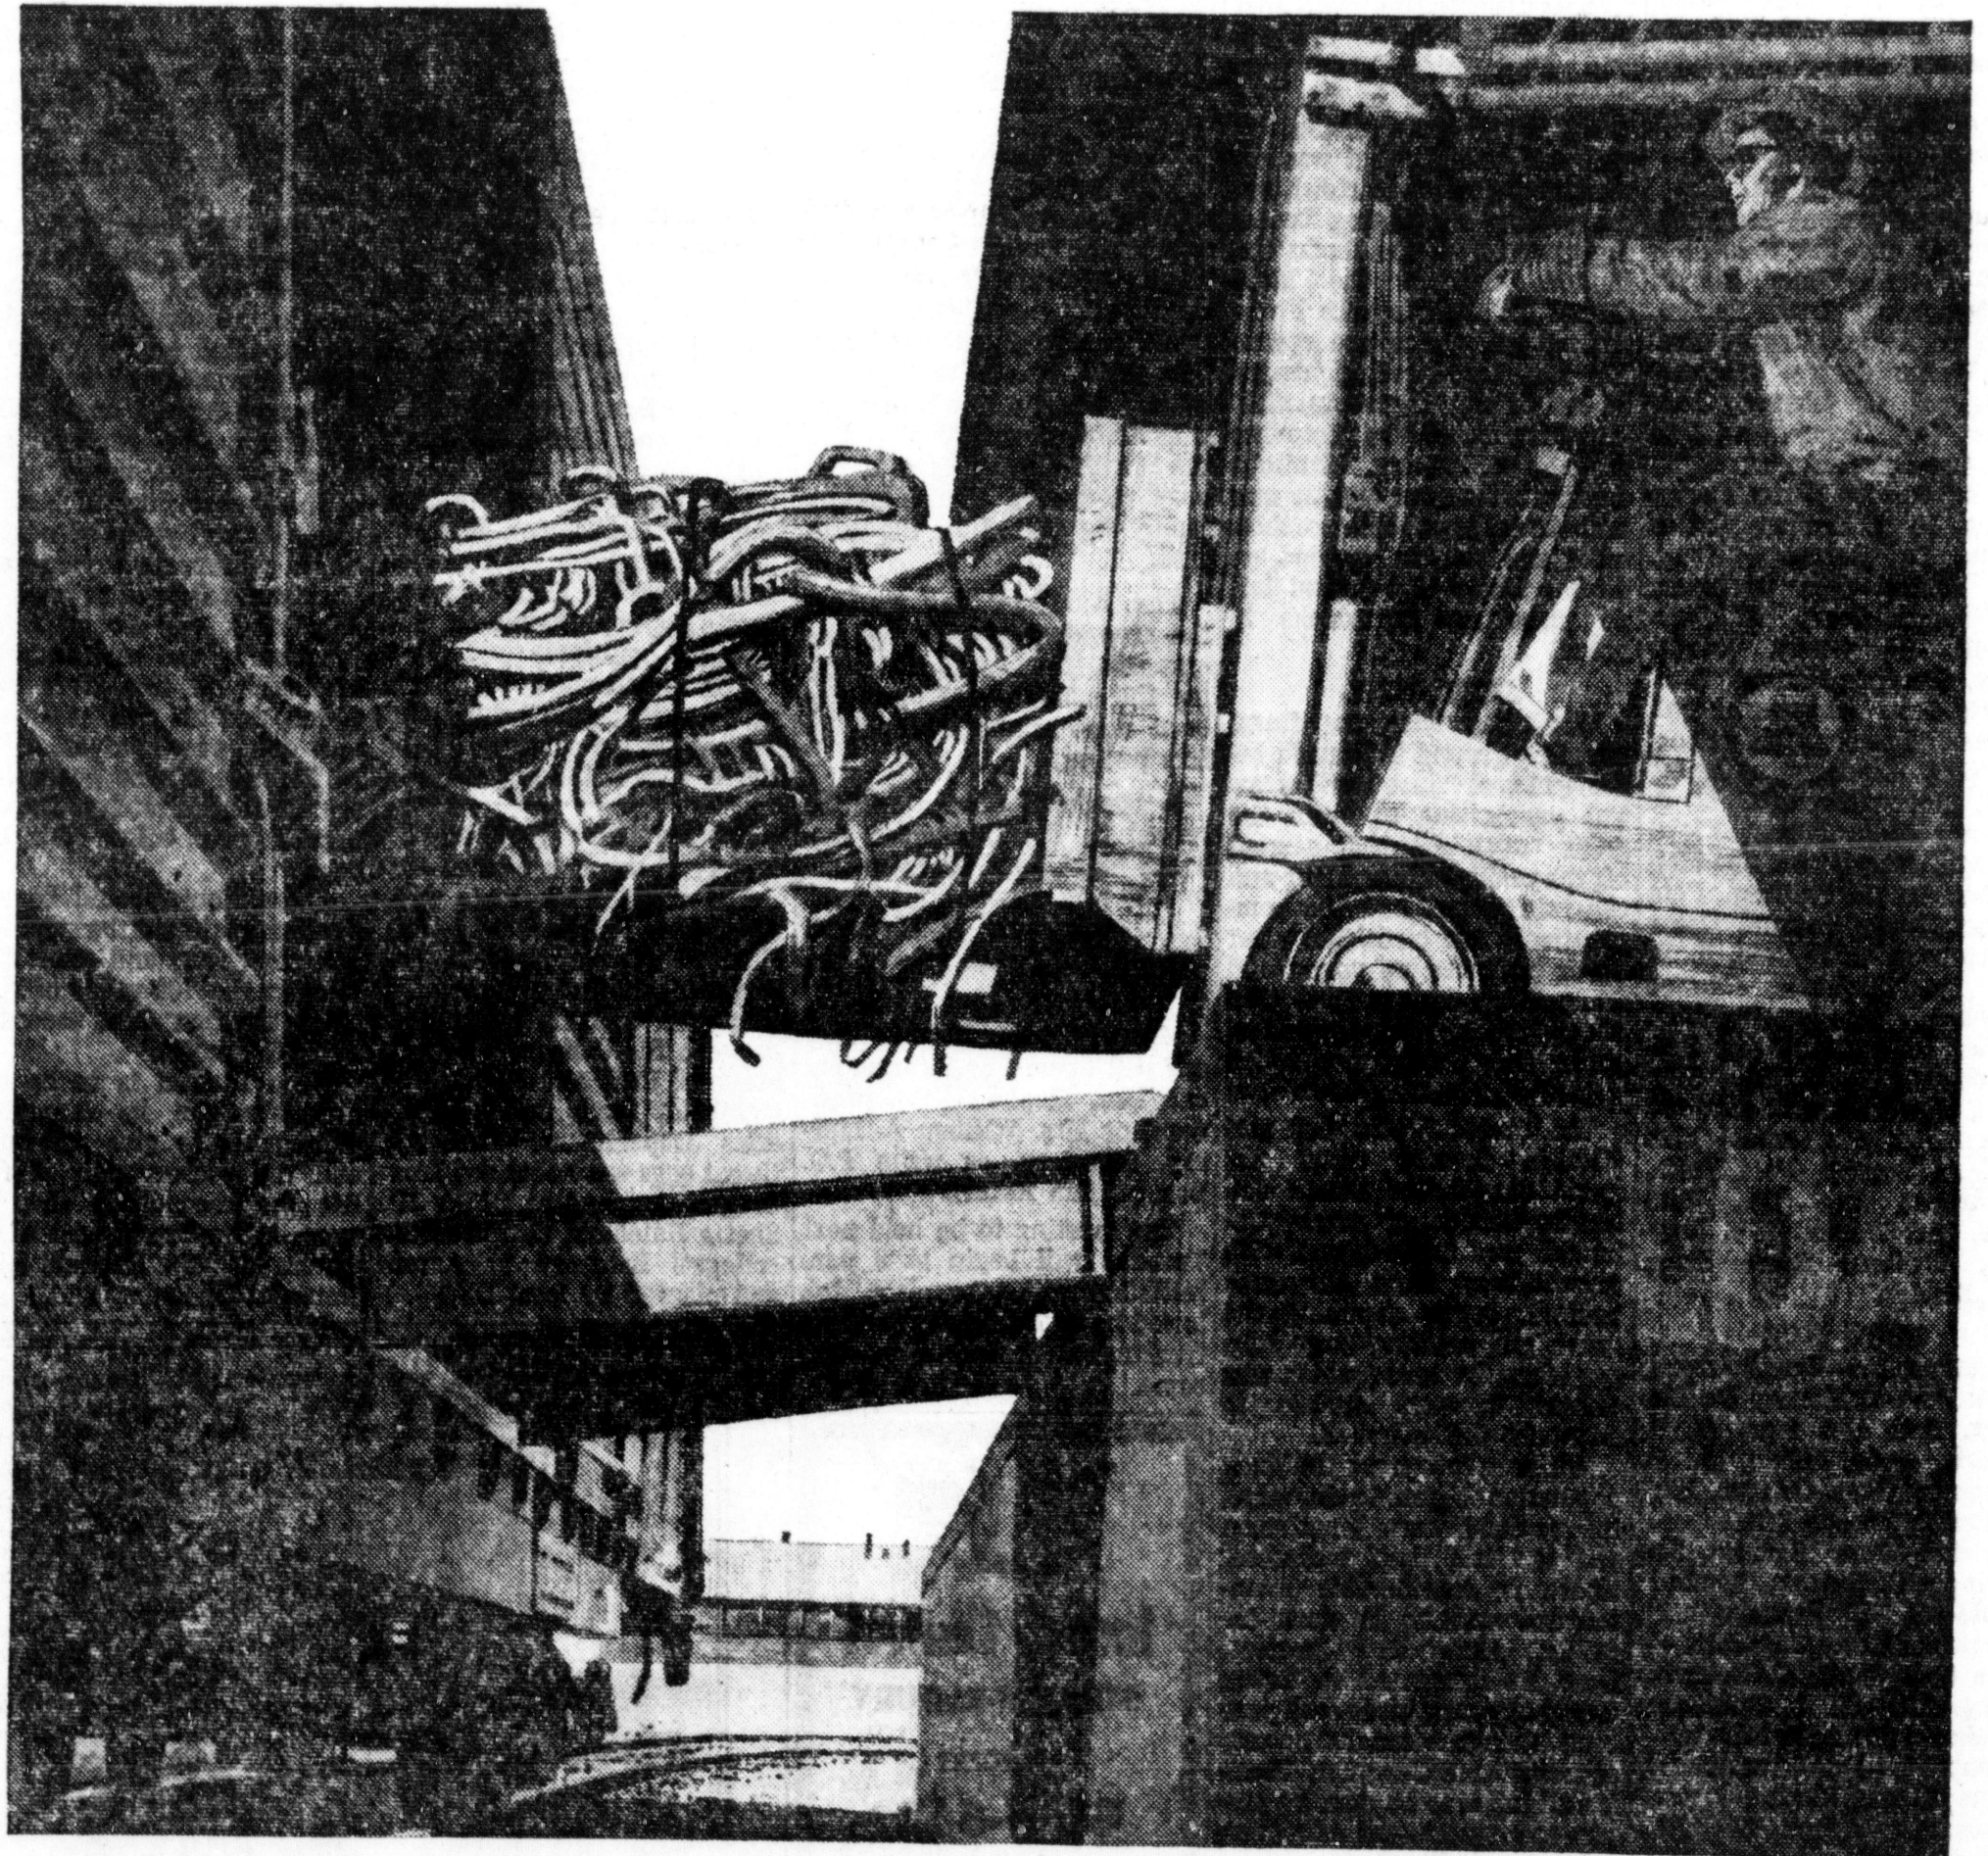

A scheduled public hearing on a petition of Adelbert and Marie Louise Von Rotz, San Anselmo contractor and his wife, that unbuilt portions of Oak Manor subdivision be annexed to the city was continued by the council for two months at the request of the contractor.

LETTER READ

Mayor Smith read a letter from Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. notifying the council that it intended to open Bolinas avenue to install additional cable.

In its final item of business, the council approved a request for Milton Pilhashy of 6 Mardone road to build a garage to his property line.

Another thrifty way we work to keep phone service a good value

How we give telephone scrap a new lease on life

You might think the tangle of phone wire and the hunks of cable on this lift truck are so much junk. Actually, they're as valuable as the leftover piece of roast in your refrigerator.

For every week here in the Pacific West, we collect boxcars full of odds and ends that are rich in lead and copper. They're skillfully melted down, reclaimed and turned into new wire and cable to carry your calls again. Other pieces of phone equipment, after long use, are often salvaged intact. By careful reconditioning, we give them years of extra life.

Nothing useful is wasted in the telephone business. And it is economy like this that helps us give you the most value for your telephone dollar.

Casual Styles To Be Shown At Luncheon

The rich colors of the fall countryside will be reflected in the decor and in fabrics and tones of the clothes styled for casual living which will be shown at the San Francisco Yacht Club Auxiliary's fashion luncheon on Tuesday, Sept. 22, in the clubhouse. The luncheon is set for 12:30 p.m.

President Mrs. Colin Mason has named Mrs. Frank E. Duhme Jr., to be general chairman. Mrs. Paul Marcucci will be in charge of decorations, assisted by Mrs. Chris Casparich and Miss Paula Marcucci; and luncheon chairman Mrs. Victor Kagan's assistant will be Mesdames Robert Potter and Tyler Seeley.

Parading the styles provided by a Marin County shop to music played by Miss Joan Millner will be 12 club member models under 12 auxiliary member models under the direction of Mrs. Myron Elges.

Models are Mesdames Howard Haswell, W. B. Wallace, Roy Ashley, A. John Anlyan, Rolfe Croker, Arthur Sauter, William Ferguson, Louis Britt, Sanford Lowengart, Dean Jennings, David Mushet and Alan Ollinger.

Mrs. Gary Gast is taking reservations.

Mrs. Leonard Wood Is Honored By Sausalito Club

The season's first meeting of the Sausalito Woman's Club last Thursday, for members only, was opened by Mrs. Richard Phillips, president. The introduction of a new member was the first item on the agenda. The neophyte, Mrs. Adolph Kiefer, was "pinned" with a corsage, the chairman for this amenity being Mrs. Brookner W. Brady.

The Tree Dedication project instigated by Mrs. A. C. Maynard two years ago was reported by Mrs. Conrad T. Kett in the absence of Mrs. Maynard. The Sausalito City Council, at its last meeting, accepted the Woman's Club project to dedicate and preserve for posterity about 150 trees on city property throughout its hills. A bronze plaque is to be placed on each tree.

A highlight of the meeting was the unanimous approval of Mrs. Leonard S. Wood to the roll of honorary members. In her many years of activity in the affairs of the club, Mrs. Wood served as ninth president from 1928 to 1929; she headed the Drama Section during several regimes and has been responsible for many money raising Variety Shows, play recordings and the traditional Jinks performance in the capacity of director or participant.

Following adjournment, tea was served with Mrs. Porter M. Griffith and Mrs. Sylvester J. MacAtee pouring.

Lynwood P-TA Plans Thursday Night Meet

The first general meeting of the Lynwood Parent-Teacher Assn. will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the multipurpose room of the school.

Following a short business meeting, Joseph Mouille, principal of the school, will introduce all the teachers. Parents will then assemble in their children's classrooms where the teachers will describe the program for the forthcoming year.

Coffee will be served by the P-TA's executive board.

League Will Honor Officers At Tea

Members of the San Anselmo League of Women Voters are honoring their past presidents and members who have served on the boards of directors of the California League of Women Voters and the League of Women Voters of the U. S. at a membership tea tomorrow at 1 p.m.

This annual event will be at the home of Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox, Laurel Grove avenue, Ross.

Among those being honored are Mrs. Paul Holmer of Kentfield who served as first president of the San Anselmo league and is now a member of the board of directors of the national League of Women Voters. Among other positions in the league she has held is that of president of the California league.

Booths Are Readied For Fall Festival

All the booths are being set up this week for the annual Fall Festival to be held at the St. Francis Episcopal Church, Fifth and Grant avenues, in Novato on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The chairman of the fortune-telling booth is Mrs. John Cassil. She will have again this year the gypsy, Lolita, to tell fortunes. Also, Swami Sven-gali, who will read palms or tell fortunes with cards. This booth is always popular with both young and old.

The sewing booth, whose chairman is Mrs. George McDonald, assisted by Mesdames James Lemon, R. E. Trevino and William Howell, will feature felt skirts, veil caps, children's dresses, cocktail aprons and many other useful and attractive gift articles, including the ever-popular Christmas Nativity Scene made of felt and sequins. This Christmas decoration is quite suitable for framing.

The plant booth has arrangements of indoor plantings; also, there will be cuttings of outdoor plants, bulbs and plants which can be put in your garden right now.

Luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. in parish house.

Rowes On Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. James Rowe of San Rafael and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wheeler of Novato have been vacationing at Lassen National Park. They also viewed the construction for the Trinity Dam.

Other past presidents are Mesdames Margaret Best, W. Arthur Magee, Ralph Netterstrom, Ward Duffy who is on the board of directors of the state league, William J. Dillon, Henry Castor who was on the state board last year, Charles Garrison, John W. Bissinger and John A. Wadlewski. Mrs. Joel Nemschoff is also being honored. She is on the state board's constitutional Revision Committee.

Officers this year are Mesdames Osborne White, president; Lawrence Goldberg, first vice president; Ross Turney, second vice president; John Chambers, secretary, and Harold Gregg, treasurer.

Mrs. Goldberg is in charge of arrangements for the tea, assisted by Mrs. Everett McKeage.

Dates Are Listed For Classes In Creative Dancing

The Terra Linda Creative Dance Group announces its registration date for Sept. 21 at the home of Mrs. Don Vial at 679 Bamboo terrace, Terra Linda.

Classes begin on Sept. 28 and will continue on Mondays and Wednesdays for 15 weeks through Jan. 25. These classes are arranged for boys and girls from age three through the sixth grade. Additional classes can be arranged for older children.

A. A. Leath, instructor of the Group since its inception four years ago, is well known for his participation in the Dancers Workshop of Marin. He also teaches at the Marin Country Day School. His accompanist is Bob Kuykendall.

This is a cooperative dance group in which the mothers of the children participating in the classes assume the responsibility for its organization. For this reason the fees are kept well below the usual professional level.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Don Vial.

Other officers of the program include Mesdames D. A. Corstorphine, treasurer, and James B. Schryver and David M. Sheldon, class chairmen.

Ens. Bruce Baker, Barbara Breyer Wed

White stock and chrysanthemums decorated St. John's Church in Ross for the wedding of Barbara Clair Breyer and Ens. Bruce Drown Baker, USNR, on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Harold E. Hallet of St. John's and Dr. Carl Tamblin of St. Luke's in San Francisco officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Breyer of Kent Woodlands, was given in marriage by her father. Her white lace gown was ballerina length. Her shoulder length veil was held by a white satin band and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was Jane Watrous of Kentfield, a Pi Beta Phi sorority sister of the bride at UC. Mrs. Cleve Baker of Palo Alto, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Janet Dumm of Sacramento and Lauralie Mellana of Larkspur were bridesmaids. All wore full skirted green taffeta gowns trimmed with deeper green velvet, matching the velvet bands and veiling on their hair. They carried shower bouquets of yellow begonias.

The bride's 10-year-old sister, Joan Breyer, the junior bridesmaid, wore a white organza dress and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow begonias.

The bridegroom's brother, John H. Baker of San Francisco, was best man and guests were escorted to their pews for the 3:30 o'clock ceremony by another brother Cleve Baker of Palo Alto; the bride's brother, Richard Breyer, a UC student; Charles Jenkins of Piedmont; Douglas Moore and Sherman

ART CLASSES FOR CHILDREN SCHEDULED

The Marin Society of Artists will give children's art classes in the Frances Young Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center starting on Sept. 19.

The ten-week course of classes in painting, drawing and sculpture, including glazing, has been arranged by Mrs. Raymond Rice, director.

On Saturday mornings the classes for children from 5 to 9 will be held from 10 to 11:20 a.m. and those for children 10 to 13 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Rice, who lives at 48 Lucky road, Greenbrae.

Redwood Sewing Circle will have a Salad Luncheon Thursday at the Masonic Temple, San Rafael. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

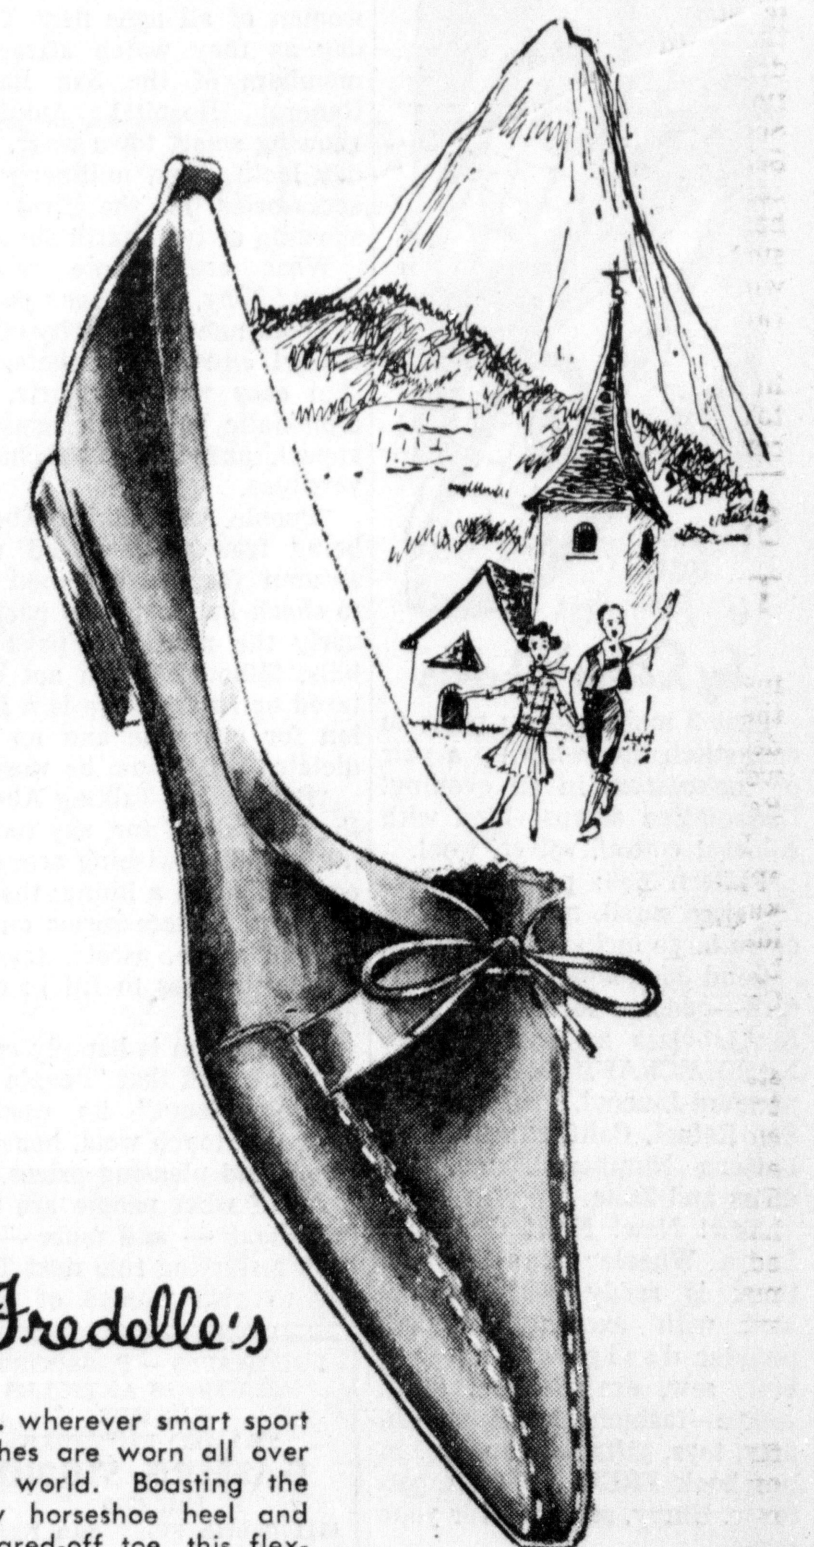

Club Plans Jet-Age Style Show

JET-age fashions—shown in a trans-world setting—will flash their pulsating message to Novato women Oct. 8 when the Community Club stages its autumn fashionscope, "Fall Around the World."

Plans for the setting take advantage of the current travel craze, but the garments to be shown will be selected with Marin wearability in mind. Miss Eleanor Lafranchi is chairman of the annual show.

Models chairman Mrs. Charles Johnson is working on this list while Mrs. William Carpenter completes details for decoration. Mrs. Jack Rhulman has been named refreshment chairman, while Mrs. Edward Grundstrom, Community Club chairman, will handle ticket arrangements. Mrs. C. F. Lester will assist in publicity.

Blanche Evans Weds Richard S. Lieb

In a 10 o'clock double ring ceremony on Saturday at St. John's Episcopal Church in Petaluma, Blanche Evans, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Evans of Petaluma and the late Mrs. Evans, became the bride of Richard S. Lieb of Novato.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lloyd L. Lieb of Novato and the late Mr. Lieb.

White gladioli were at the altar with the Rev. G. W. J. Hartzel officiating. The Rev. Richard H. Larsen assisted.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Arthur T. Evans of Petaluma, the bride wore a copen blue dress of embroidered silk organza over taffeta. She wore a coronet ornamented with seed pearls and a short blue veil. She carried a French bouquet of white roses and pink bouvardia.

Mrs. Eric Andersen of Petaluma as matron of honor for her sister, wore a coral-rose satin dress. Her headdress was a bandeau of rose iridescent sequins and she carried a French bouquet of pink carnations.

Wilfred Lieb of Novato was best man for his brother.

A reception followed the ceremony in St. John's Parish Hall where arrangements were of white chrysanthemums.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride chose a cotton and silk suit in honey beige. She had a chrysanthemum corsage.

The bride was graduated from Petaluma High School and was dental assistant in the offices of Dr. John Richards of Petaluma. She has three brothers and sisters. They are the Messrs. Arthur and Lewis Evans of Petaluma; Harold Evans of Marshall, and Mesdames Eric Andersen, Clarence Hansen and Grace Dunton all of Petaluma; Mesdames Karl Ostenberg, Brookings, Ore., Arthur Matson, Pennngrove and Jack Moore, Sacramento.

The benedict was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. He served three years with the U.S. Army and is now in his fifth year at the University of Oregon's School of Architecture.

Focus Luncheon To Salute Hospital Group On Birthday

For the past 54 years, people in Marin have been talking about the San Rafael General Hospital, first known as Cottage Hospital.

For the past year, the community has become aware of the active Women's Auxiliary of the San Rafael General Hospital whose cheerful, enthusiastic and capable volunteers offer tremendous assistance to the staff, nurses and patients.

To honor the Women's Auxiliary headed by Mrs. Lawrence McNear and salute the county's oldest hospital on its anniversary, Fashion Focus has planned a special luncheon next Tuesday at Rickey's to say "People Are Talking About!"

Fashionwise, this is a fall to cause much conversation.

And there promises to be much favorable comment from women of all ages next Tuesday as they watch attractive members of the San Rafael General Hospital Auxiliary showing smart town wear, late day looks, furs, millinery and accessories in the first fall showing of two Marin shops.

What are people talking about? Why, the longer jacket, the continued popularity of the Chanel and box jackets, the slim easy walking skirts, the diplomatic look with feminine appeal, and the gad-about re- versibles.

"People Are Talking About" being frankly delighted with autumn fashion designed not to shock but to please particularly the man who pays the bills. Silhouettes are not cluttered or fussy; there is a fashion for everyone and no one dictates what must be worn.

"People Are Talking About" the joy ride of fur, sky rocketing on hats, swishing around a coat collar, in a lining; the importance of accessories on the fashion scene, ascots, scarves, pins, necklaces to fill in open necklines.

Fall fashion is happily on its own and glad that "People Are Talking About" its costume look, soft touch wool, heavenly colors and pleasing prices.

All of what people are talking about — and more — will have a starring role next Tuesday to give women of every

Delta Zeta Alumnae To Hold Kick-Off Luncheon Saturday

Marn County Delta Zeta Sorority alumnae will gather Saturday afternoon for their annual salad luncheon at the home of the alumnae chapter president, Mrs. Peter Hansen of Novato.

The traditional get-together of new and old members following the summer hiatus of meetings will begin at 1 o'clock with pre-luncheon cocktails, followed by a selection of salads and desserts. Mrs. Headley Brown and Mrs. Robert Pritchard, both of Terra Linda, will co-hostess the luncheon.

Greeting alumnae members at the door will be the officers of the chapter, which has a membership of over 70 in the county. They are Mesdames Robert Tanem, San Rafael, vice president; Glen Johnson of Terra Linda, secretary; and Earl Koehler of Lucas Valley, treasurer. Committee chairmen who will assist with introductions are Mesdames Michell Abramson, Jr., of Tiburon; George Mallory, James Saunders, James Smith, San Rafael; Robert Bry, San Anselmo; Guy Gale, Sleepy Hollow; Thomas Coates and Miss Slavka Ciblich, Corte Madera.

A short business meeting will follow the luncheon to discuss final plans for the sorority's participation in the Annual Grape Festival at Sunny Hills on Oct. 3. Delta Zeta will again man the Book Booth, as they have done for the past three years. Disposal of the used books collected by the members since last year's Festival will be outlined by Community Participation co-chairmen Mesdames Coates and Harold Chamberlain of Lucas Valley.

Delta Zeta's Panhellenic representative, Mrs. Mallory, and alternate, Mrs. Gale, will discuss preliminary plans for the annual Panhellenic Marin County chapter tea to be held in October. This year, as first vice-president, Mrs. Mallory is in charge of the affair which all sorority alumnae members in the county attend. Committee signups will be taken during the meeting.

Members desiring transportation may contact Mrs. Johnson, 358 Holly Drive, Terra Linda, San Rafael.

Alpha Gams Will Meet Tomorrow

This summer at the International Convention of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority the Grand Council announced the union of Theta Sigma Upsilon with Alpha Gamma Delta. Theta Sigma Upsilon was a national educational sorority with 13 characters throughout the nation. The nearest one is at Chico State which will become Delta Iota chapter.

To commemorate this event the Alumni Club of Alpha Gamma Delta of Marin County has invited to its first fall meeting members of Theta Sigma Upsilon in this area. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. F. Riply, 178 Reservoir road, San Rafael, at 8 o'clock tomorrow.

Plans for the coming year will be discussed. Among the activities being planned will be several projects to raise money for the national sororities' altruistic fund which is counsel- or training program for crippled children and adults. Also planned will be several work meetings devoted to making puppets and other items for the children's ward of Marin General Hospital.

Alpha Gamma Sorority was founded at Syracuse University, May 30, 1904. With the addition of the chapters of Theta Sigma Upsilon the sorority now has 82 undergraduate and alumni chapters and many alumni clubs.

Mrs. Adolph Kiefer Honored At Luncheon

Mrs. Frank T. Greene of Sausalito was a luncheon hostess last Thursday to honor Mrs. Adolph Kiefer upon her entering the Sausalito Woman's Club as a new member. Guests were Mrs. Kiefer's sponsors, Mesdames Charles Diller Ryan, Ernest R. Bowman and James J. Carroll. Other club members attending were Mrs. George R. Chapman, Miss Colette Shillig and Mrs. Bert Van Cleve.

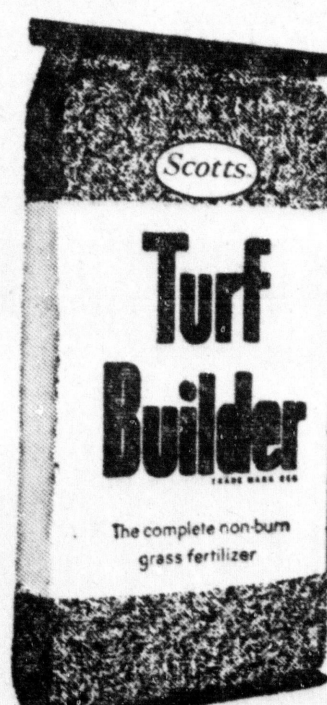

Marin Nurses' Assn.

Members of the Marin Nurses' Assn. will have their first meeting of the fall and winter season at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 17, in the annex at Marin General Hospital.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Sam Hanzel, San Rafael neurosurgeon, whose topic will be "Nursing Care in Hypothermia" (lowering of the body temperature). Mrs. Teresa Peters is program chairman.

Diane Pilacelli Is Bride Of Robert Leonard Sievers

Santa Venetia's Blessed Sacrament Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Diane Catherine Pilacelli of San Rafael and Robert Leonard Sievers also of San Rafael. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Pilacelli of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. William Sievers of San Rafael are parents of the bridegroom.

White stock and pink carnations were at the altar for the double ring 2:30 p.m. ceremony with the Rev. John W. Prindeville officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white hand-clipped Chantilly lace fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline edged in sequins and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, carnations and bouvardia.

Wearing light green silk taffeta frocks fashioned with round necklines and bouffant skirts with matching veils were Kathy Pilacelli of San Rafael, the bride's sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Mary Gallegos of Corte Madera and Mrs. Al Da Silva of San Rafael. They carried a spray of pink carnations with pink streamers.

David Sievers of San Rafael was best man for his brother and ushers were Brad Bryon of San Rafael and Vern Cheda of Pt. Reyes Station.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pilacelli wore a dress of lavender lace over taffeta with matching accessories and orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a frock of champagne peau de soie with brown accessories. She had an orchid corsage.

A reception for 200 guests followed the ceremony at the San Rafael Improvement Club. White chrysanthemums and greenery were used in arrangements.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a beige suit with Dior blue accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and Marinello Beauty College. She is employed at the Beaudette Beauty Salon. Kathy, Thomas and Jimmy Pilacelli of San Rafael are her sisters and brother. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. August Pilacelli of San Rafael and the late Mr. Pilacelli and Alex McDonald of San Francisco and the late Mrs. McDonald.

Mrs. Harry E. Wall, district deputy president of District 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, will pay her official visit to Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112 at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael, Thursday night. Friendship night and the opening of school will also be featured. Mrs. Kenneth Irwin is program chairman. Mrs. Mary Bruni, noble grand, will preside at the meeting.

A Boost For Art

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One way to attract the lay individual to an art museum might be by having outdoor tables nearby. At least it works in Philadelphia.

Henri Marceau, director of the Philadelphia Art Museum, notes that a number of visitors have been drawn to the museum's collection by first being attracted by the outdoor tables of a restaurant nearby.

Even people living in the area, Marceau says, are taking advantage of the unusual lunch setting and then completing their noon hours with visits to one or more galleries.

Swing Is Costly

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Messinger, 61, swung her large shopping purse at fighting dogs, one of them her own.

That broke up the fight but when Mrs. Messinger got home she found $21.40 was gone from the purse. It apparently flew out when she swung at the dogs.

Fund Raising Dinner Will Benefit Center

A dinner to raise funds for improvements in the Southern Marin Recreation Center will be given on Saturday night, Oct. 3, by the Mantegani family of Tiburon, at the Center.

Reservations for the dinner, which has been given in the past to raise funds for Center projects, are open to all members of the community, according to Mrs. Howard I. McGill, reservations chairman. Price of the dinner will include cocktails at 7 o'clock, a dinner at 8 o'clock and dancing to the orchestra until 1 a.m.

Mrs. B. Mantegani, affectionately known as "Mom Man-tegani" will cook her famed spaghetti sauce for the benefit dinner. The menu will also include roast beef, barbecued by her sons Fred and George, salad, French bread, wine and cheese selections for dessert.

Mrs. Mantegani's daughters-in-law are in charge of the serving of the sit-down dinner. Reservations are limited to 180 people. Anyone wishing to assist Mrs. McGill in table settings or arrangements is urged to contact her as soon as possible. Reservations should be made with Mrs. McGill or through the Center offices not later than Sept. 19.

Is Sherman Adams Behind New Boom For Rockefeller?

One of the most intriguing recent national political events came out of New Hampshire. A group of good Republicans there announced they were forming an organization to put the name of Nelson Rockefeller on the state's primary ballot.

Now this in itself might not be so intriguing. Certainly governor Rockefeller has been mentioned before; certainly the fact his name is being put up is no surprise.

But when you think back a little, say eight years, it becomes more intriguing.

Eight years ago a candidate by the name of Eisenhower was being prominently mentioned as a possible candidate. There was a question as to whether he was a Republican or a Democrat. It turned out he was a Republican and his name first went before the voters of New Hampshire, who hold the nation's first primaries.

Behind the Eisenhower boom eight years ago was a man who has since become well known across the nation—Sherman Adams. Adams' ability and hard work were recognized by the new President; Adams became a powerful part of the Eisenhower staff.

Then things went wrong. Eventually Adams resigned. He left the White House rather reluctantly. Perhaps he felt the President hadn't stood quite as squarely behind him as he might have.

Now although Eisenhower has said numerous times he will take no stand on picking his successor, the President certainly has been putting Vice Pres. Richard Nixon in places and positions which would enhance his chances of the nomination. He has smiled brightly in Nixon's direction.

But up in New Hampshire, someone must be behind the Rockefeller boom. Could it be a disgruntled Adams?

We can't say for sure. But as we mentioned earlier, it's one of the most intriguing developments recently.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Greet Khrushchev In Silence, Prayer

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:
The visit of Khrushchev to the United States leaves many of us wondering what course is open to American Catholics in regard to his reception. We remember the description of atheistic Communism by Pope Pius XI in the encyclical Divini Redemptoris which in part said:
"See to it Venerable Brethren . . . that the faithful do not allow themselves to be deceived: Communism is intrinsically evil and no one who would save Christian civilization may collaborate with in any undertaking whatsoever."

This is the same Pope who had a great love for the Russian people and who was constantly drawing a distinction between the Russian people and the Communist regime. The Holy Father goes on to say "In making these observations it is no part of Our intention to condemn en masse the people of the Soviet Union. For them we cherish the warmest paternal affection. We are well aware that not a few of them groan beneath the yoke imposed on them by men who in very large part are strangers to the real interest of the country. We recognize that many others were deceived by fallacious hopes. We blame only the system . . ."

President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have asked us to receive K. with dignity. Violence is not dignity and should not be condoned by patriots. But stony silence is dignity. National mourning, the flying of flags at half mast, black arm bands, tolling of church bells, days of prayer and penance are dignity.

Our leaders cannot expect Christian patriots to show wild enthusiasm at Khrushchev's visit. We cannot be expected to cheer, to wave flags to strew flowers in the path of this brutal and godless Communist tyrant. Rather, let America be wrapped in dignified silence and prayer.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Parke Commings, listing his mementoes and memorable moments at the Detroit Athletic Club, gave high priority to a pair of tickets to South Pacific that he bought from a speculator. They turned out to be for the wrong night. He also prizes a baseball hit by the immortal Babe Ruth. It was a foul pop that conked Parke behind the ear. He was in a seat behind third base. "I still get headaches," adds Cummings proudly.

Now Zsa Zsa's press agent would have us believe (if these Gabor said half the things attributed to them, they'd have to talk continuously 24 hours a day!) she suddenly announced, "In school, they taught me that money isn't everything and that being happy is what really counts—but as soon as mother got wind of this, she made me change schools."

And when crime becomes profitable business, the racketeers begin to take over as they are now elbowing into the merchandising of obscenity.

Thus criminals are begetting criminals, nurturing and nourishing them. All these are the reasons why Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield needs and deserves the support of every church organization, every parent, every civic leader, to help smother this awful business.

Obscenity Now Is Big Business With Million Teenage Customers

WASHINGTON—There is good reason to be wrathfully aroused by the massive abuse of the mails to sell obscenity to teen-age boys and girls.

Let's not allow ourselves to be distracted from the main problem by a side debate on "Lady Chatterley's Lover." The courts have ruled it mailable and most people, I think, will be willing to go the extra mile to guard against capricious government censorship.

But there is no issue of capricious government censorship in dealing with the calculated commercial corruption of youth by the mail-order filth racket.

It is no valid use of free speech to yell "fire" in a theater.

It is no valid use of free speech to engage in a conspiracy to teach the overthrow of the government by force.

It is no valid use of free speech to promote for profit the overthrow of the morals and moral fibre of the nation's young people. And, on top of it, to make the United States government—through the Post Office—an unwilling participant in the crime.

HAVE NO DOUBT about it, today the mail-order sales of pornographic literature, obscene pictures, and erotic equipment, have become big business and is helping to produce big crime.

The purpose of this column is to show something of the magnitude of this offensive, corrupt and corrupting enterprise. Later columns will deal with what is being done and what more can be done to destroy it.

By conservative estimate the gross revenue from this filthy business runs to half a billion dollars a year—and probably much more. The profits are vast.

The inspection service of the Post Office Department estimates that as many as 1,000,000 children this year will be on the receiving end of this terrible racket—at least one of every thirty-five children in the country.

THE OBSCENITY business focuses its attention more and more on the nation's chil-

Talent, even when misdirected, or used at others' expense, is at least talent given an outlet. There is always hope that it can be turned into channels that are more than selfish. The Lord Himself condemned the man who hid his one talent in the earth:

"Thou oughtest to have committed my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received my own with usury. Take ye away therefore the talent from him and give it him that hath ten talents."

He Put Hamburger On Assembly Line, Sells 100 Million A Year

NEW YORK (AP)—America has gone mad over pizza pies, but in less than five years Ray Kroc has built up a 25-million-dollar business in an older U.S. food favorite—the hamburger.

"I put the hamburger on the assembly line," said Kroc, 56, president of a chain which now sells 100 million 15-cent hamburgers a year.

Kroc quit high school at 15 after a losing bout with algebra. At 16 he and Walt Disney were driving Red Cross am-balances.

For 17 years, Kroc served as a sales manager for a paper cup firm, then became world distributor for a soda fountain multimix machine.

In 1954 Mack and Dick McDonald, owners of a self-service hamburger drive-in at San Bernardino, called him in, proposed he join them in establishing a nationwide chain.

"The idea put me on a dream cloud at the start," said Kroc, who later took over the chain when the McDonald brothers retired.

Kroc launched only one new drive-in patio in 1955, which earned $158,000. Now the chain consists of 125 drive-ins, with 60 more under construction in 25 states.

The system operates on a franchise basis. Kroc's organization picks the site, leases the building, and provides the know-how for 2.2 per cent of the gross. Each drive-in represents an investment of about $125,000, of which the individual operator puts up $29,000.

"WE DON'T allow juke boxes, cigarette machines or phone booths—and we don't hire female help," he said.

"In picking a site we count the churches and schools in the area, rather than the traffic. We appeal to a family trade, not transients. We want to become a real part of the community."

Among the operators are retired doctors, dentists and Navy commanders, a former Linotype operator, a former teacher.

UNLIMITED YET by law of diminishing returns, Kroc says his spectacularly successful hamburger emporiums average a net of $40,000 on an annual gross of $200,000. The average customer's check is 66 cents. Not one franchise has failed, he said.

"We don't see how one could," he said crisply. "In any case, we wouldn't let it. We'd move in and take over."

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

It's Been A Long Time Since Ford Tri-motors Were Queens Of The Sky

With the end of the barbecue season at hand, I have been informed by the boss that I am no longer needed in the capacity of yellow jacket editor, a position I have held since the first sting of summer.

As of this week, I am being dispatched to the jet plane and farm by-product beat in the Hamilton Field-Novato area.

Prior to a two-day briefing tour of Hamilton last week, I felt eminently qualified to handle matters pertaining to aviation. But after a peek at progress since Tom Swift and I were youngsters, a refresher course is definitely in order.

ALTHOUGH MY FLYING machine experience does not date back to the Wright brothers, I do treasure a yellowed 1925 snapshot of myself standing beneath the starboard wing of one of the old Ford tri-motor jobs. I seem to be gazing with grim determination into the wild blue yonder, however it is possible I was merely squinting at the sun in my eyes.

In later years, after I had found out about girls, I never missed an opportunity to take my true love flying in one of the barnstorming rigs which regularly hit town with the carnivals.

THE PILOT USUALLY gave me a spool of wire and a pair of pliers so I could lend a hand in holding the heap together while he flew us over the cow pasture for 50 cents.

FOR IMPRESSING a girl, it had it all over a hay ride.

During World War II my aviation education was broadened somewhat when I accumulated some flying time in the rumble seat of an SBD dive bomber as guest of a group of playful Pacific Island lieutenants.

I happened to be on the small Pacific island when my ship, a rust-bucket freighter on which I was engineer, put in with supplies for the resident fighting men.

Unfortunately, our cargo contained nothing but cases of Spam and Vienna sausage. A farewell party was in the offing for some of the boys who were being shipped stateside, and the canned meat did little to add to the festive spirit.

THEIR GRATITUDE knew no bounds when I saved the day by contributing a couple of sides of beef and a dozen turkeys I happened to find not nailed down in the ship's ice box.

After presenting me with the keys to the coral reef and underwriting my martini account at the officers' club, the flyboys outdid one another in chaffing me around the cloud banks.

Giving me a daily "wringing out" took the place of baseball as the all-island pastime. They swore their airborne antics were in jest, but I have always suspected them of doing their homework in a course to determine the stress and strain the human body, — mine, that is — could withstand.

I THOUGHT I had reached the ultimate in the dive bomber which rattled along at a respectable 500 miles an hour, straight down.

It was with somewhat of a shock that I learn they no longer measure the speed of present day jobs in miles-per-hour. A plane now either goes a couple of times the speed of sound or it's too sluggish to bother with.

And I'm not at all sure I liked the fiendish gleam in the eye of one Major Phil Coady the other day when he said he would be delighted to take me for a spin in a jet.

My old bones can stand just so much progress.

INSURANCE FOR OLDSTERS

Aged Health Plan To Be '60 Issue

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON (CQ)—Whether the federal government should provide health insurance for old people is shaping up as a major 1960 election issue.

The federal government should provide health insurance for old people is shaping up as a major 1960 election issue.

The House Ways and Means Committee brought the issue center stage in recent hearings and a special Senate committee will keep it in the spotlight for the rest of the year. The Senate committee on problems of the aged plans to keep its investigation going even after Congress adjourns.

The recent House hearings were on a bill sponsored by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D, R.I.). The Forand bill would add health insurance to the present social security system. The insurance would be financed by having workers and their employers each pay an extra one-quarter of one per cent in social security taxes. Self-employed persons would pay an extra three-eighths of one per cent. At retirement, those under social security would be eligible for the health insurance benefits.

THE BENEFITS in the Forand bill include up to 120 days of hospital and nursing home care a year. Surgery also would be covered. The patients would pick their own doctors, similar to the way they do under current Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans. The government would run the program.

Forand contends there is no other solution. He says old people cannot get adequate health insurance from private sources at reasonable rates. The consequences are often the wiping out of life-long savings or forcing oldsters to go to relatives or the government for help.

The Forand bill is backed by several national organizations, including the AFL-CIO and American Nursing Assn. Nelson H. Cruikshank, AFL-CIO social security chief, told the House Ways and Means Committee that the Forand plan actually would help private insurance by taking on the high risk old people.

THE EISENHOWER Administration and American Medical Assn. are at the forefront of those saying that private resources, given time, can do the job. Both oppose the Forand bill. The AMA shouts "socialized medicine" when the Forand bill is mentioned. It fears the bill would result in the government running medicine.

The private insurance companies are against the Forand bill, too. The threat of federal health insurance has spurred them to come up with a rash of new plans for the elderly. So far, however, the coverage offered is modest.

There is no chance of the bill becoming law this year. It is too late in the session. But the Forand bill does have a good chance of coming up for a vote in the House in 1960.

Besides such backers as the AFL-CIO and nurses organization, the Forand bill will get a shove in 1960 from the oldsters themselves. The Census Bureau estimates there will be almost 16 million persons 65 years old or more come 1960. That is one-fourth of all the people who voted for President in 1956.

Both political parties, knowing that the aged represent one in every four votes, already are mapping plans for wooing oldsters.

Forand himself says he will keep pushing the bill until it is passed. "A lot of the Congressmen tell me the doctors are putting on terrific pressure against the bill," he says. "So I tell them there are a lot more old people back home than doctors."

Fathers Aren't The Bosses These Days Their Fathers Were

"Aren't men bosses at home any more?" a man writes. "Can't I give orders to my own children? I have two teen-age daughters. They used to be nice. Now they wear clothes I think are indecent. They stay out too late. They go with boys who drive too fast. We fight a lot. Their mother sides with them. Do other men have the same problem? What can I do?"

Many other men face the same problem. It isn't easy to be the father of teen-agers. I've several suggestions. Check with the parents of the other kids in your girls' gangs. Ask about standards for clothing, hours, allowances, boy friends, etc. You can expect your girls to live within the rules their gang accepts. But if you're much more strict, they'll continue to rebel. That's why we should try to rear our youngsters in neighborhoods with high standards.

Check with your wife. Indicate the limits beyond which you cannot go. Get her to explain your feelings to your girls. Ask her to help you understand their feelings. Try some compromises. You and your wife should present a united front to your girls. If one of you is strict and the other lax, you're sure to have trouble.

Have some long talks with your daughters. Try to hold your temper. Ask them to hold theirs. Be sure your wife takes part. Do your best to come to some agreements with them. After that, you've a right to expect very good reasons if the agreements are violated.

You ask if fathers are bosses in their own homes any more. The answer is that we fathers aren't the bosses our fathers were. Not by a long shot.

Bicycle Crash Lawsuit Filed

A Ross widow, who said she was struck by a boy on a bicycle in San Anselmo one year ago, is suing for $20,000 damages in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Rozelle Baker of 127 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, Ross, filed the suit today through attorney C. John Bernt.

She charges negligence on the part of Bruce Hall, 11, and his parents, Ray and Marie Jean Hall of 181 Oak street, San Anselmo. Mrs. Baker alleges she was walking along the sidewalk on San Anselmo avenue near Ross avenue on Sept. 26 of last year when Bruce struck her with his bicycle, knocking her down.

Attorney Bernt said the victim suffered severe injuries including facial fractures.

He Guessed Wrong

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Henry Adams once had to walk nearly a mile to his home after his car was halted by a snowstorm that arrived earlier than the weatherman predicted.

Another time he planned a big family picnic, only to have it rained out by an unexpected storm.

These experiences wouldn't be unusual for the average person. But Adams is chief meteorologist for the U.S. Weather Bureau here.

Safe Driver Insurance Plan Popular

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A safe driver insurance plan, tested in California for four and a half months by the stock insurance companies, seems to have won public acceptance.

"I can say without qualification that the plan as now constituted has achieved excellent acceptance from the public, the press and the agents," said John Savage of the National Bureau of Casualty Insurance Underwriters.

The plan was put into operation May 1 by about 200 companies which write about half of the auto insurance in California.

Drivers are rated according to records kept by the state Department of Motor Vehicles, which is notified of every traffic conviction and accident. Such records are available to anyone for a 25-cent fee.

If, in the past three years, the driver has no black marks, he gets a 20 per cent reduction from the "regular" premium.

One demerit qualifies him for a 10 per cent reduction. With two he gets the "regular" rate. Three means a 20 per cent increase, four 40 per cent, five 70 per cent, and six 100 per cent.

The companies have eliminated two features of the plan as originally announced which aroused strong protest. One gave a demerit for any accident—no matter who was at fault. The other gave a new driver an automatic demerit on grounds he hadn't proved himself.

Now a driver can eliminate an accident demerit by proving he was not at fault, and a new driver starts with a clean slate.

One remaining criticism of the plan is that a driver is charged with the same penalty for a drunk driving conviction as for easing through a boulevard sign.

However, a driver with a series of boulevard stop convictions would probably stand a much better chance of getting insurance from a non-participating company than would one with several drunk driving convictions.

Under California law, insurance companies do not need state approval to put the plan in operation. The basic law, passed in 1947, does not require the filing and approval of rating plans by the state insurance commissioner. His only power is to prevent exorbitant rates, or rates so low they endanger a company's solvency.

The current commissioner, F. Britton McConnell, said he believes the principle of merit rating is good.

"While it can't work in absolute justice in every case," he said, "it is in general aimed at encouraging public safety. I hope to see it better understood by the public."

He compared the merit insurance to workmen's compensation, which has worked in California for 50 years and has helped to promote safety. Employees are given lower insurance rates for good accident records.

McConnell also noted that the plan is not compulsory. "People who get debits will seek another insurance company, and the competitive situation in California is such that they can find it," he said.

'Unsafe Vehicle'

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (UPI)—Magistrate Harley Hallett ruled William Sharpe's "unsafe vehicle" off the road and fined the motorist $14.50.

Officers who arrested Sharpe, 20, said the auto he was driving was "held together with bailing wire, there were blocks of wood supporting the fan belt and the grill and hood were put together from two different makes of cars."

BOYS SUSPEND LIFE OF CRIME TO ASSIST DOG

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Police are holding two runaway Windors Locks, Conn., boys who turned themselves in with the explanation: "We had about run out of money, and we decided to give ourselves up before we got into more trouble."

The boys—identified as Robert L. Giggy, 16, and Kenneth Beaumont, 18—told of stealing a car and taking $50 from an old woman.

But police said the boys talked most about helping a stray, pregnant dog. They quoted Beaumont: "We may be crooks, but we don't believe in seeing poor animals suffer."

Planners Set Two Hearings Next Monday

The Marin County Planning Commission will hold two public hearings next Monday, one on an application to construct a small boat harbor and another on a proposed nine-acre subdivision of Gallinas Village 8A.

Hearings will be held in the county office building, 1711 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

A hearing has been set for 10 a.m. on the application of Albert Van Der Werth Jr. for a use permit to permit the construction of a small boat harbor and accessory uses on a 6.67 acre site on the southerly side of Sir Francis Drake boulevard east. The site is about 2,500 feet east of Highway 101 and within the confines of Corte Madera Creek, Greenbrae area.

The commission has scheduled the public hearing on the tentative map of Gallinas Village 8A for 1 p.m. the same day. The subdivision is International Investment Co., which proposes to divide the area into 40 lots.

An exception to the subdivision ordinance is requested to permit approval of lot sizes not in accordance with the approved Gallinas Village master plan.

Archery Supplies Stolen From Home

Someone stole $196 worth of archery equipment, including a $65 bow, from a San Rafael home, the owner complained to the sheriff Saturday.

The victim is Charles Richard Congdon, 43, a school teacher living at 60 Crestview drive. Congdon had been away for three months, working at Yosemite. On his return, he discovered the bow, two quivers, and 54 arrows were gone from a garage workshop.

Investigating officer was Deputy Sheriff George Congdon, the victim's brother.

Dominican College Lecture Scheduled

"The Role of Women in the Modern World" will be discussed by Rev. Gerald Vann, O.P., English teacher, author and lecturer, at Angelico Hall of Dominican College in San Rafael at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The lecture will be open to the public.

Father Vann was for years headmaster of Blackfriars School at Laxton, England, and will return to England in October. He lectured at Dominican College during the summer of 1956 and is well known for his views on feminism, feeling that women's attitude is often neglected in the modern activist Western world.

ORSON WELLES SUES OVER TV PROGRAM IDEA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Orson Welles has filed a $425.00 suit alleging the idea of his "Men from Mars" radio program was used without permission.

Defendants in the superior court suit are the Columbia Broadcasting System and Westinghouse Corp.

Welles contends he retained control of the idea for the Oct. 30, 1938, radio show.

He alleges he did not grant permission for CBS and Westinghouse to use the theme for a television show, "The Night the World Trembled," which he says was seen over CBS and affiliates Sept. 9, 1957.

Art Festival Slated At Mill Valley

Art along with a liberal helping of fun will be on tap at the annual Mill Valley Art Festival, Sept. 25-27.

The Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the fete.

Scores of artists will have their works on display in downtown Mill Valley where an art auction will be held.

On the entertainment program will be folk dancing, puppet shows, free movies, children's games and contests and a parade.

Booths will be set up in the Lytton Square area, also the site of a street dance.

Decorations in the downtown area will enhance the festive air surrounding the three-day celebration.

KGO To Telecast Nikita's Activities

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the National Press Club will be telecast at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow over KGO-TV (Channel 7).

A recap of Khrushchev's activities during the day will be seen from 10 to 10:30 p.m.

Esperanto Society Of Marin Incorporated

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced the Esperanto Society of Marin has filed articles with his office to form a non-profit corporation.

The group listed its directors as William E. Walker, 586 Louis dr., Novato; Johannes van Zwol and Werner Hebenstreit, 20 Gardner st., Mill Valley.

Mrs. Ray J. Sanders of 339 Oak Manor drive, Fairfax, finds she can almost shake hands with the prizes given her by Ken Ackerman, who conducts the "Music Till Dawn" program of San Francisco radio station

KCBS. Mrs. Sanders and nine other winners were given the lobsters, flown from Boston by the airline which sponsors the program, in return for nice things they said about the airline and "Music Till Dawn."

Tryouts For Grape Fete Talent Set

Amateur actors and musicians will perform before judges at two tryouts this week to choose feature attractions for the 16th annual Grape Festival at Sunny Hills on Oct. 3.

The initial test will be at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo. Another at the same place will be at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Judges tomorrow will be Hugh Turner, general manager of radio station KTIM, San Rafael; Mrs. Roger Kane of Kentfield, and Dick Stewart of radio station KPIX in San Francisco.

Saturday judges will be Hugo Rinaldi, conductor of the Marin Youth Orchestra; Daniel Fitzroy, past president and member of the Ross Valley Players, and Charlie Dugdale, Bay Area radio-TV performer.

Audition reservations will be received by Mrs. Arthur Wiggell, 101 South Ridgewood, Kentfield, and Mrs. Edward Ruff, 125 Nadina way, Greenbrae. Winners' trophies will be given by the Lions Club of San Anselmo.

Marin Chorale To Start 11th Season Next Monday Eve

The Marin Chorale will begin its 11th season next Monday at 7:30 p.m. with a rehearsal of the Mozart Requiem in the Montgomery Chapel music room of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Director John Milton Kelly has announced a full schedule of concerts and rehearsals for the 1959-60 season, including the traditional performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, Bach's Christmas oratorio and a performance with the Marin Symphony in the spring.

The chorale was organized in 1948 by Dr. Kelly, professor of sacred music at the seminary, when he was approached by Walter Zurcher of San Rafael and several others who have been interested in the cultural development of Marin County. Membership in the group today includes every community in Marin and several people from San Francisco, the East Bay and Petaluma. It represents many faiths and varied professions.

Auditions for new members will be held at the rehearsal next Monday.

Marinites To Attend Dinner For Senator

Elmer S. Worlund, chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, will head a delegation of Marin Republicans at a Hotel Whitcomb dinner in San Francisco Sept. 25 in honor of the first U.S. senator of Oriental extraction.

Guest of honor will be Sen. Hiram Fong, who recently won election in Hawaii. Republicans of all Bay area counties are joining to welcome him.

State School Board To Eye Merger Plans

SACRAMENTO — Plans to merge 55 school districts into 10 unified districts will come before the state Board of Education when it meets in Santa Barbara Thursday and Friday.

Also on the agenda of the 10-member board will be a proposal to raise state college admission standards for transfer students from other colleges, and plans to open the 15th state college in September, 1960.

ELECTION PROPOSALS
Up for board approval are proposals for local elections on unifying school districts in many parts of the state. Included are two Los Angeles and Sacramento County proposals on which the board, after hearing protests at its July 10 meeting, refused to act prior to further study.

Unification brings both elementary and high schools under a single local school board and is supported by the state board as a method of consolidating California's more than 1,800 school districts.

HIGHER STANDARDS
Proposed higher state college admission standards will affect only students who did not have the B-minus high school grade average necessary to enter state college. It will require that they finish two years college work with a C average or nearly a year's work with a B average before transferring to a state college.

Present entry standards vary considerably depending on institutions from which students transfer, according to state Department of Education officials. Also likely to eventually effect admission standards is a college entry test, whose trial use is proposed for several state colleges. The four-hour tests will first be given early next year to high school seniors planning to enter state college if the trial is approved by the board.

Congress Ends Longest Continuous Session Since 1951

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress closed out its long and often frustrating 1959 session early today.

Final adjournment came only a few hours before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was due in Washington.

The House quit at 6:21 a.m. and the ways more leisurely Senate hurried to quit three minutes later, ending the longest continuous session since the Korean War year of 1951.

An hour before adjourning, Senate leaders woke President Eisenhower with a call to the White House, made at his request. They reported they were about ready to quit, and he replied he had nothing more to ask of them this year.

hind a heavy load of business for their 1960 national election session, starting next Jan. 6.

The final adjournment just before Khrushchev's scheduled arrival pleased some of the members who sought to make sure there would be no occasion for an address by the premier to the Congress.

Others, who wanted a face-to-face meeting with the Soviet leader, were satisfied with a session arranged by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at the Capitol tomorrow afternoon.

For the Senate, adjournment ended a 21½-hour session starting at 9 a.m. yesterday to clean up the final business of the first session of the 86th Congress.

Congress' final action was to appropriate $3,225,813,000 for foreign aid and about 400 million dollars for miscellaneous other purposes. The aid total 330 million less than Congress had authorized in an earlier bill, was a compromise of Senate and House figures.

Also approved, as part of the bill, was a two-year extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, otherwise due to die in November. It was given $500,000 in new funds to continue its work in the next year.

The session's end was delayed by a lengthy conference on the foreign aid bill onto which had been tacked a number of clean-up money matters and the Civil Rights Commission's extension—an action bitterly opposed by Southern senators.

Probably the most noteworthy acts of the 1959 session were to admit Hawaii as the 50th state and to pass a far-reaching labor regulation bill. But the list of major bills left over for what must be a far shorter session next year is longer than the roll of 1959 accomplishments. Congress then will be driving for an early July adjournment, in advance of the Democratic national convention meeting July 11 in Los Angeles. The head-over list includes civil rights, a general farm bill, aid to education, minimum wage legislation, aid for depressed areas, broadening of social security, and perhaps general tax revision. On several important issues, the Democratic leadership got legislation passed this year, but reduced far below expectations at the start of the session.

THESE RUSSIAN EMBLEMS NOW ON THE MOON

These are the metal elements of pennants which Tass, the official Soviet news and picture agency, says were delivered to the moon's surface by the successful Russian cosmic rocket. The insignia at left includes the Soviet hammer and sickle and the Russian initials for the U.S.S.R. (Union of Soviet Socialist Republics). The one at right repeats the U.S.S.R. initials and carries the date of September, 1959. Soviet scientists said yesterday, despite the delivery of the emblems and the Soviet flag by Lunik II, the U.S.S.R. makes no territorial claims whatsoever on the moon. (AP Wirephoto).

Khrushchev Visit Puts U. N. Opening In Shade

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly opened its 14th session today amid speculation that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is preparing a dramatic surprise as part of his speech here Friday.

Diplomats familiar with Soviet thinking expressed doubt that Khrushchev would pass up an opportunity such as this would grab worldwide headlines.

The opening of the 82-nation Assembly was a completely over-shadowed by the Khrushchev visit to the United States.

Today's session was limited to the election of officers and the organization of the powerful steering committee which will get down to business tomorrow. Its first business will be whether to place on the agenda such controversial issues as the seating of Red China and the French-Algerian issue. The Assembly will deal with about 70 items.

The veteran Peruvian diplomat, Victor Andres Belaunde, 77, was slated to be elected president of the Assembly without opposition.

VICTOR ANDRES BELAUDE To head U.N. Assembly

The general debate will begin Thursday, when U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter delivers a major policy declaration.

VISIT PROTESTED

Many Groups Stage Anti-Nikita Rallies

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Many Americans got their feelings about communism off their chests yesterday—well in advance of the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for his United States tour.

Apparently motivated by the government's plea for courtesy to an important visitor, many church organizations and East European groups staged pre-arrival protest demonstrations.

Most such groups have indicated they would not demonstrate—at least not violently—while the Soviet premier and his party are on U.S. soil.

But many sections of the country saw anti-Khrushchev parades, rallies, mourning protests and other demonstrations.

Many newspapers carried paid editorials calling on Americans to mourn and warning against the dangers of too much friendliness toward Communists.

At Rochester, N.Y., and New Haven, Conn., persons of East European origin held silent marches.

A Hungarian church in New York was draped inside and out with black for the entire 12 days of the Soviet leader's visit.

In Washington, a protest rally by the American Council of Christian Churches, which represents a small and fundamentalist segment of American Protestantism, drew 600 to the Washington Monument grounds.

Also in Washington, Polish-American Jozef Mlot-Mroz was carrying out a promise made in a letter to President Eisenhower and was still on a hunger strike in protest over the Soviet visit.

Similar armbands and car stickers denouncing Khrushchev were distributed at the Washington headquarters of the Committee for the Freedom of All Peoples.

Stickers passed out in New York read: "Don't have a crush on Khrush—it's you he wants to crush."

Roman Catholic churches in many areas called for tolling of funeral bells, prayers and other mourning demonstrations.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Princess Expecting

TOKYO (UPI)—Princess Michiko, wife of Crown Prince Akihito, is pregnant, the Imperial Palace announced today.

The 24-year-old commoner-born princess and Akihito were married last April 10. The announcement said an examination last Thursday disclosed she was four months pregnant.

But Who Wants It?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Borscht ice cream has been made available to Nikita Khrushchev during his Washington visit—if he wants it.

A restaurant chain delivered 50 pounds of the new-flavored ice cream to the Soviet embassy yesterday for use by Khrushchev and his party.

Winds Batter Elko

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Winds and heavy rain tore at this northeastern Nevada city yesterday, hurting six persons slightly and turning over house trailers.

Gusts of up to 90 miles per hour were reported in one 10-minute period. They blew down outbuildings, damaged houses and unroofed a warehouse, which collapsed. Electric power was knocked out and not restored until three hours later.

Mustache Mark?

SAN DIEGO (AP)—A tamale maker with an 18-inch mustache says he is out after the tip-toe tip championship of the world.

John A. Todd, 41, said he has heard of a man in England who has a mustache measuring 19 inches. He said he expects to exceed that before long.

Todd's mustache dates from April 15, 1957.

Scrimmage To Bach

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The loudspeaker system at Shawnee-Mission North High School is delivering classical music to students of academic announcements. Football players scrimmage to Bach and Beethoven.

It's not intentional. School officials discovered the loudspeaker system is picking up the broadcasts of an FM radio station whose transmitter is close to the school.

Better Write Better

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—U. S. Judge Waldo Rogers recommends that some of New Mexico's attorneys brush up on their penmanship.

The judge, speaking to a group of attorneys assembled in federal court yesterday, requested the lawyers stop filing "illegible and unreadable papers."

He said the writing on legal papers and exhibits filed with the court often appears to be "a bunch of hen scratchings."

No Place To Hide

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—There won't be any place to run in the next war, say civil defense officials here. Their job now is to talk citizens into building places to hide.

J. M. Thornton, civil defense director for the Guilford County area, said plans to evacuate the area in event of atomic attack will be scrapped. He said the intercontinental ballistic missiles could strike long before the minimum three hours needed to clear out the populace.

Instead, the organization will try to get residents to build family-size shelters.

Lives Up To Name

CHICAGO (AP)—Rosemary Manahan, a zoo leader at the Lincoln Park Children's Zoo, went to a cage today to pick up a zoo oldtimer, a deorized skunk.

By mistake, she grasped a newcomer to the zoo, a skunk named No Name Stinky.

Stinky lived up to its name.

Missing Plane Hoax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A West Coast air search for a missing four-engine plane ended yesterday with authorities convinced they'd been victimized by a hoax.

On Sunday a man identifying himself as Paul Parron of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C., called the Los Angeles airport tower and filed a verbal flight plan to Seattle in a four engine de Havilland Heron.

Although he never notified the tower he took off, air officials had to assume he was missing when he never reported in by radio. Air search units scoured California, Oregon and Washington for hours before the British Embassy said it didn't know of Paul Parron and that its one de Havilland Heron was sitting at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

Legion Founder Dies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Fred Blair Townsend, 73, one of the founders of the American Legion, died yesterday in a Phoenix hospital.

In 1919 he was a member of the St. Louis caucus which organized the Legion. He twice was national president of the Society of American Legion Founders.

U.S. Vanguard Rocket Flops In Launch Try

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The countdown reached zero today on the last of the Vanguard rockets, but an attempt to launch it with a 100-pound satellite was abandoned because of undisclosed technical difficulties.

An informed source said the firing button was pressed but failed to send the necessary signal to the ignition system.

TRY AGAIN LATER

It was trouble that couldn't be fixed quickly, so the Vanguard crew decided at 2:40 a.m. to go home and try again later. There was no immediate decision on when that will be.

The satellite included a 50-pound payload and the 50-pound third stage of the rocket, which will remain attached to the satellite. Its job will be to measure the earth's magnetic field, solar X-rays and the more dangerous pockets of radiation around which man will want to detour when he flies to the moon.

JUPITER FAILURE

Three hours after the Vanguard postponement, the powerful engine of a Jupiter intermediate range missile ignited, but the big rocket failed to get off the ground. The missile was scheduled for a 1,500-mile test flight.

Trouble is no stranger to the Vanguard program. A victim of circumstances, the slim 72-foot rocket has been plagued with technical difficulties since its beginning.

FIRST BLEW UP

The first Vanguard was rushed to a launching stand, long before it was ready, in a frantic effort to get a satellite in orbit and save face for America after the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I. The fledgling Vanguard blew up on its pad Dec. 6, 1957.

Since that time, Vanguard rockets have launched two satellites, the so-called "grapefruit" and "basketball" moons in nine tries.

FATAL HEART ATTACK

Actor Wayne Morris Dies On War Vessel

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Wayne Morris, 45, Navy flying ace in World War II, is dead of a heart attack suffered on the bridge of an aircraft carrier at sea.

He was watching air maneuvers from the Bonhomme Richard off Monterey when he collapsed yesterday. Morris was aboard as guest of the skipper, Capt. David S. MacCampbell of Los Angeles. MacCampbell, his uncle, led Morris' wartime squadron, famed fighting Squadron 15.

The 200-pound, six-foot-two actor was born Bert De Wayne Morris in Los Angeles. He had been a star football player at Los Angeles City College when a Warner Brothers talent scout discovered him at the Pasadena Playhouse.

An athletic leading role in "Kid Galahad" made Morris a star overnight. He became a romantic hero in prewar films like "Submarine D-1," "Brother Rat," "Bad Men of Missouri," "Love, Honor and Behave," "Valley of the Giants," "Men Are Such Fools" and "The Kid from Kokomo." On location for "Flight Angels" he learned to fly.

He enlisted in the Navy in 1941 and joined Squadron 15 aboard the carrier Essex in the Pacific. Morris flew 57 missions and took part in raids on Marcus, Wake, Iwo Jima, Okinawa and other targets.

He earned his rating as an ace by shooting down seven Japanese planes.

Morris won four Distinguished Flying Crosses and two Air Medals.

His career as a handsome screen hero failed to flourish after the war and he slipped into B pictures. Three years ago he switched to character parts and found new demand for his talents, mostly in television.

In January, 1939, Morris married tobacco heiress Leonora (Bubbles) Schinasi. A son, Bert Wayne Morris, was born in December, 1939, but the marriage was stormy and ended in divorce in 1941.

A year later Morris was married to the former Patricia Ann O'Rourke. They lived in suburban Studio City with their two daughters, Patricia and Melinda.

Big Bargains At Center Anniversary

Corte Madera Shopping Center will celebrate its first anniversary tomorrow through Saturday with a gigantic merchandising event featuring top quality items on sale at rock-bottom prices.

"This sale will exceed anything offered by our stores during the center's first year of business," promised Ray Zier-olf, president of the Center Merchants Council.

"And that's saying a lot," Zierolf added, "because we've had some wonderful sales events in the last 12 months."

Corte Madera Shopping Center is on Highway 101, near the Corte Madera traffic interchange. Billed by the merchants council as Marin's only "one-stop shopping community," it offers free parking for 2,100 cars.

For convenience of late shoppers, all stores at the center will be open until 9 o'clock tomorrow and Friday night.

Here is a list of the 29 stores and services at the multi-million-dollar Corte Madera Center:

J. C. Penney Co., W. T. Grant Co., Thrifty Drug Store, F. W.

Woolworth Co., Littleman Market, Junior Junction Infants and Children's Wear, Louis George Men's Apparel.

Toy World, Gallenkamp's Shoes, Martin and Harris Appliances, Lady Baltimore Bakery, Kirby Shoe Store, Harmony Music Center, Luana's Fashions, Kramar's Shoes, Anita Shop, Jay Vee Store.

Kerns and Walkers Cleaners, The Swiss Watchmaker (Eric Mathias), Dr. Shusho Kumata, optometrist; Peerless Laundry, First National Bank, Household Finance Corp.

Zim's Restaurant, Marin Barbershop, Edgewater Inn, Bob's of Marin Restaurant, Friend's Union Service and Jerry's Chevron Service.

MANY FESTIVITIES PLANNED

Here's Schedule Of Center's Events

Here, in capsule form, is a schedule of events planned for the big first anniversary celebration at Corte Madera Shopping Center tomorrow through Saturday:

TOMORROW—11 a.m., cake-cutting ceremony in the shopping center arcade. Cake will be replica of the sprawling multi-million-dollar commercial center. After 11:30 a.m., free cake, ice cream and coffee to be offered to all visitors.

THURSDAY—8 p.m., square dance exhibition on shopping center mall by Cornhuskers and Top Hands square dance groups of Larkspur and San Anselmo, respectively. Gordon Collins will be caller, visitors invited to participate in dances after exhibition.

FRIDAY—All day, continuation of gigantic four-day sale at all shopping center stores, with prices drastically reduced to fit almost any budget.

SATURDAY—11 a.m. Ping pong ball drop from helicopter, with $3,500 in prizes to be given away. Every ball a winner. Balls will be dropped on two areas from altitude of less than 100 feet. First drop to cover area from corner of Tamalpais drive and Madera boulevard to Littleman Market. Second drop to cover area from J. C. Penney Co. store to middle of shopping center, then straight down the middle.

(Except in cases of emergency, no cars will be permitted to travel on parking area during pong ball drop.)

Historical Note

PORT EDWARDS, Wis. (AP)—The Wood County Historical Society has erected Wisconsin's 93rd historical marker, noting the origins of the cranberry industry in the state.

The site, six miles west of here, marks the spot where S. N. Whittlesey and Ralph Smith started production in 1870. Wisconsin now has some 4,000 acres of cranberry bogs operated by 150 growers.

Did Give Up Hobby

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (UPI)—Miss Cerinda W. Evans retired 12 years ago at the age of 71 and became librarian emerita at the Mariners' Museum here. However, she can be found almost every day at her desk in the library. One project since she retired has been the indexing from 1874 through 1957 the proceedings of the United States Naval Institute.

She has given up her vacation hobby—mountain climbing.

The vision of one man, Frank Rusalem, and the know-how of many others made possible the development of Corte Madera Shopping Center, which this week is celebrating its first anniversary.

Rusalem bought the acreage for the shopping center and Madera Gardens subdivision in 1945, when the site consisted mainly of swamp and seagulls.

The first developments were the subdivision, service stations and the Edgewater Inn Motel.

One year ago, the first major unit of the multi-million-dollar shopping center officially opened for business on the more than 20-acre commercial portion of Rusalem's once-barren land.

Today, the center is still growing. Bishop-Mattei Co. is proceeding rapidly with construction of a Montgomery Ward and Co. store, a Ward's auto service center and a branch of San Rafael's First National Bank.

The bank building also will house three commercial outlets—a Herbert Sherbet Shoppe a beauty salon and a shoe repair shop.

By Feb. 1, these additional stores and services are expected to be added to the 29 already in business at the huge shopping center.

Ping Pong Balls Good For Prizes At Shop Center

Prizes galore — $3,500 worth — will be offered at Corte Madera Shopping Center at 11 a.m. Saturday when nearly 900 ping pong balls are to be dropped from a low-flying helicopter.

How do prizes and ping pong balls tie together?

Simple. Each ball will be numbered, and every number will be worth a prize. All you have to do is grab one of the little white spheres and redeem it for a valuable gift.

Prizes will range from a 10-cent toy to 100 gallons of premium gasoline and from a pair of children's slippers to shoes for a family of four.

Major prizes will include a car-full of groceries, table model radios and a pair of first-line tubeless tires.

Claimants may check the numbers on their ping pong balls with a master list of prizes and donors. The lists will be posted in the shopping center's 29 stores and services.

All prizes must be claimed prior to the close of business Saturday, Sept. 26, said Ray Zierolf, president of the Center Merchants Council.

"If duplicate numbers should turn up," Zierolf said, "the first claimant will receive the prize. In all disputes, the decision of the judges will be final."

A birthday cake cutting ceremony marking the center's first anniversary will be held in the center arcade tomorrow at 11 a.m. The cake will be a huge model of the shopping center.

Frank Rusalem, shopping center developer; Mayor Roger F. Morse of Corte Madera, and Richard Audsley of the John S. Bolles architectural office have been invited to participate in the ceremony.

After 11:30 a.m., free cake, coffee and ice cream will be offered to the public — while it lasts.

Thursday at 8 p.m., a square dance exhibition will be given on the shopping center mall by the Top Hands and Cornhuskers, square dance groups from San Anselmo and Corte Madera, respectively.

Gordon Collins, well-known Marin square dance instructor, will be the caller. He said he will be glad to call numbers for anyone wishing to join in the Thursday night festivities.

Minor Operation

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — When 3-year-old Ricky Loy got his finger caught in the end gate of a truck, his parents had to take both the boy and the truck to a hospital to get them separated.

Luckily it was only a toy truck, and a pair of pliers did the job.

Alabama Lawyer-Editor Devised First Typewriter Back In 1860

CENTRE, Ala. (UPI) — Probably not one secretary in a hundred could tell you who invented the first practical typewriter. He is an American better known in England than in his own country.

While the first commercially-successful typewriter was turned out in 1873, John J. Pratt was using one in his newspaper office here in 1860. He was registrar in chancery for this northeast Alabama section, a lawyer and part-owner and editor of a newspaper.

All that writing began cramping his fingers and Pratt began to think about a machine which would put letters on paper with the touch of a finger.

He took his ideas to printer John Neely who manufactured some type he thought might work while Pratt built the frame and working parts.

The device worked and Pratt began using it for his court chores along with writing editorials for The National Democrat, a well-known newspaper of the day.

But in 1860, when the Civil War was approaching, he decided to go to England. He obtained patents on the typewriter there and in France.

An article about his machine appeared in The Scientific American in the United States and, two years later, a patent was issued for the typewriter to Glidden and Sholes in this country.

Glidden and Sholes took their machine to E. Remington and Sons, then well-known manufacturers of guns and sewing machines. The first commercially-useful typewriter resulted, 13 years after Pratt had his in use.

But Pratt, who is buried in this Cherokee County town, wasn't entirely forgotten.

He was pensioned by the firm which patented the typewriter in the United States and a marker over his grave describes him as "inventor of the typewriter."

Library Visitors Have Same Query

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Close to 200,000 persons have visited the Truman Library, and most of them have asked the mild-mannered guard the same question:

Are the jewels encrusting two large knives and two scimitars on display really REAL?

They are. The large diamonds, sapphires, rubies and pearls glittering in gold settings laid out on velvet is estimated by Barnett Helzberg Jr., vice president of a large jewelry concern, to be worth "possibly as much as a quarter of a million dollars."

To the layman the dazzling array, displayed in a simple glass case, looks like something straight from the treasure chest of an Oriental potentate; and it is.

The ornately bejeweled weapons were a gift of gratitude to President Truman from King Ibn Saud and Prince Saud of Saudi Arabia. They were in royal appreciation after Truman sent his personal White House physician to tend the ailing monarch.

While the jeweled weapons are probably the museum's most spectacular exhibit, they no more than tie for first place in public interest, according to staff members.

Equal attention, particularly that of small boys, is drawn to George Washington's signature. The first President's name, signed to several documents, seems to fascinate the youngsters.

Lucky visitors to the library may also get a glimpse of Truman himself as he steps briskly out to lunch or returns from a mid-morning trip to his home for a cup of coffee. The former President and his staff occupy a suite of offices in another wing of the building, which is 550 feet long.

The museum's central theme is the Presidency of the United States, its duties, responsibilities and history.

Something relative to each of the nation's chief executives, from Washington to Dwight D. Eisenhower, is on display. The range is wide. Some exhibits have great intrinsic or historical value; some are merely curiosities. In size they vary from a 17-foot Persian rug to tiny campaign badges.

The largest single display is the full-sized reproduction of the President's office. Built from the original plans and furnished with duplicates of the original furnishings, it contains pictures, maps and desk ornaments used by Truman. Among them is his famous desk sign: "The Buck Stops Here."

A recorded message by Truman tells, at the touch of a button, much about the room as well as the significance of the Presidency.

On loan from the National Archives in Washington is an historically important collection of American state papers. They include such famous items as the Alaska Purchase treaty with Russia of 1867; proclamations of war with Mexico in 1846 and Germany in 1917, signed respectively by Presidents Polk and Wilson; Truman's 1945 V-E Day proclamation; and a message from President Thomas Jefferson requesting that Congress appropriate $2,500 so he could send Lewis and Clark to explore the newly-purchased Louisiana territory.

Lewis and Clark, incidentally, passed within two miles of the Library's location on their way west.

Another favorite document of visitors is the draft of a letter from Washington to Alexander Hamilton dated March 30, 1789, and expressing a relatively simple request — that lodging be engaged for Washington in New York City.

The first President evidently had some difficulty composing the simple note. The letter to Hamilton is interlined and scratched, with numerous alterations.

Here Are 10 Tips That Can Help Save You Money In Gasoline Bills

(Patricia Jones is a 30-year-old stock car racer and stunt driver from Wichita, Kansas. She confounded many male drivers when, driving an eight-cylinder 1959 Dodge Coronet, she won the Los Angeles to Kansas City fuel economy run for medium priced cars. In this dispatch she passes on some economy driving tips to the average motorist.)

By PATRICIA JONES

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. drivers waste billions of gallons of gasoline every year through bad driving habits and throw away still more fuel dollars by ordering overpowered cars.

Auto purchasers shout for economy, but they still drive wastefully. Any driver can cut down on his gasoline bill and other auto operating costs by following some simple, common-sense rules.

Here are 10 tips that can save you up to $200-$250 a year in fuel costs alone:

1. Drive at moderate speeds, 35-45 miles an hour. At 41-42 m.p.h., most recent-model cars will operate at peak economy. But over 60, performance drops sharply on all cars—down to 9-10 miles per gallon on even the best cars at 80 miles an hour.

2. Climb hills at minimum of 35 miles per hour. Hill-climbing is gas-consuming — but more so at slow than high speeds. Get up as fast as safely possible.

3. Press gas pedal softly on downgrades. Don't let the engine drag the normal forward motion of the car; this wastes gasoline. Don't "race the engine" downhill either, though. Maintain just enough pressure on the gas pedal to keep the engine turning as fast as the wheels — within the limits of safety.

4. Avoid abrupt stops. Your brakes cut down normal momentum of the car—and momentum doesn't use gasoline. Also, in quick stops, your engine is still working to make you go, thus also wasting gas. On top of this, a sudden stop sloshes gasoline out of the carburetor, making for further waste. Look ahead of traffic, anticipate emergencies and avoid consuming gas with quick stops.

5. Avoid "jack-rabbit" starts. The faster you dig away from a traffic light or other stop, the more gas you waste. A slow, smooth acceleration is the most practical.

6. Don't go over 35 until engine warms up. The engine wastes gas when it's cold. Especially on winter days, go slow until your heat gauge shows engine at the proper temperature and even in the summer take it easy at first.

7. Inflate tires adequately. Soft tires make a soft ride but an expensive one. For maximum mileage put six to eight pounds more in them than the owner manual says.

8. Shift to high as soon as possible. Engines are most efficient, and most economical, in third gear. Shift out of first or second as soon as you can.

9. Use reverse gear sparingly. This is the least efficient gear. Turn around rather than back up even a block.

10. Stick to smooth roads. Muddy, bumpy, dirty, snowy roads increase gas consumption because you lose traction and also bumps slosh and waste gasoline.

Do these things and you'll get three or four more miles per gallon than you're presently getting if you're an average driver.

Also, have your car serviced regularly. To get thrift rather than thrills from your car, you can request your garage service man to make some simple mechanical adjustments that could chop off another $60 to $90 from your gasoline bill. These adjustments, which any qualified mechanic can make for under $10, include:

Set the distributor rotor for high economy rather than high speed.

Widen spark plug gaps to achieve maximum miles per gallon.

Pull out fuel jet plugs in the carburetor to provide a leaner gasoline mixture.

Reduce the shift speeds in the automatic transmission.

Adjust brakes to make sure they don't drag when not in use.

For further economy, choose a six-cylinder rather than an eight-cylinder engine when buying your car, and order a low-compression engine. Horsepower has little to do with fuel economy but the compression ratio does. The lower the compression, the lower the gas consumption.

Of course, if you want even more economy—the lighter the car, the better the mileage. You can sacrifice comfort and space and buy small cars. All makers will have at least one within a few months.

Just Routine

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Gerald E. Hendrickson didn't have time to read a news story about a woman who had given birth to four consecutive sets of twins. She was too busy caring for her own four consecutive sets.

Mrs. Hendrickson was unimpressed when told that the odds of such a thing happening were about 100,000,000 to one. "I thought it was routine," she said.

The Hendricksons have 12 children. He is a chief petty officer in the Navy.

Dirt's Dirty Word To Missile Firers

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Dirt is a dirty word to the men who fire America's missiles.

Like the legendary gremlins that made things difficult for World War II bomber crews, dirt can be an enemy to U.S. rocketeers almost as powerful as the Russian missile arsenal.

A speck of dirt so small that it cannot be seen by the naked eye can, if it gets into the fueling system of a liquid-fueled rocket, throw it hundreds of miles off course.

Tiny flecks of grime in the wrong place can cause delicately-balanced fueling systems to go haywire and could ruin the best-laid plans to shoot the moon, put a satellite into orbit or fire an ICBM.

A small group of scientists in Tulsa think they have the solution to this problem. They work for the Dow Chemical Company's Dowell Division, which has been in business primarily to serve the petroleum industry in this Oil Capital.

These scientists clean missiles. But they go about it a lot more thoroughly than you do when hosing down the family car on a Sunday.

Using both extra-strong solvents and ultrasonic sound waves, the chemists have devised ways to get missiles and their parts far cleaner than previously thought possible.

"We have devised methods to clean a missile so clean you could put it in a hospital operating room and it would be the cleanest thing in there," said J. P. Engle, a laboratory group leader.

"Our cleaning removes all dirt particles bigger than .004 of an inch," Engle said.

Dowell makes use of the ultrasonic cleaning techniques recently developed. High-frequency sound waves, instead of soap or detergents, are turned on and the dirt is knocked right off in a fraction of a second.

Such cleaning methods are used by Dowell at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at the Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., and at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Dowell got into the business 20 years ago by cleaning scale from boilers and just recently worked its way up to missiles.

"This method of cleaning is leading the way for other uses," Engle said. "Hospitals are now starting to use ultrasonic cleaning for surgical tools and equipment."

The use of solid-fuel missiles may cut down some on the need for making missiles surgically-clean, since solid-fuel missiles are somewhat simpler in construction.

European Workers In Drive For Higher Pay

NEW YORK (UPI)—European workers are inadvertently doing more than their share to help solve one of the biggest problems facing U.S. businessmen today in their search for world markets.

A number of American industries are concerned about their inability to compete with foreign manufacturers because of higher production costs in the U.S.

They pin most of the blame for this cost gap on the fact that wage levels here are much higher than in Europe and Asia.

But if European workers and labor unions have anything to say about it, that gap will be narrowed sharply in the years ahead.

S. Riley Williams, vice president for international operations for the Worthington Corp., predicted that "the upward pressures for wages in Europe particularly will narrow the existing gap between their costs and ours over a term of years."

When that happens, he added, "our export opportunities will be secure." However, Williams warned that cost-price inflation in this country must be halted to give European costs a chance to catch up.

Frank R. Nichols, president of the Nichols Wire and Aluminum Co., said American industry must change its concept of a dollar-hungry Europe for one of a dynamically expanding Europe.

Nichols said demand for goods is rising so rapidly abroad that "it is likely so-called dumping of goods in American markets should become negligible inside six months to a year."

He said extreme price differentials already are disappearing. Nichols said rising demand in Europe for consumer goods and the stronger position of European currencies will make European countries less willing to ship their goods to the U.S., especially at little or no profit.

"The driving force behind this almost revolutionary change is the European workers' insistence on a higher standard of living, an insistence which is similar to the American workers' demands of the past half century," Nichols said.

Nichols said inflationary forces are bound to develop in an economy as expansive as Europe's.

Worthington's Williams said wages are on the upswing all through Europe. He said the average industrial wage in France is $1.05 an hour "and headed higher."
